NOT SLACKENING LIBERTY DRIVE BECAUSE OF VICTORY

Money Must Be Had to Put Punch in Rhine Campaign
BILLION A DAY TO MAKE TOTAL
Reports Coming in From All Except Kansas City District

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—President Wilson and other officials feel that the American people must exercise caution in the good news from the battle fronts cause a relaxation of effort on behalf of the fourth Liberty loan. Thus far no such tendency has been noticeable and the campaign has been going with an enthusiasm comparable to that with which the battle reports have been received.

It is pointed out that now that victory is definitely being brought to the side of the Allied armies, funds and more funds are needed to enable the fighting men to press home their hard won advantage and hurl the German hordes beyond the Rhine. Secretary McAdoo is understood to have determined to have speakers emphasize this point continuously until the huge $5,000,000,000 total is raised.

Official reports today from all Federal reserve districts, except Kansas City, which has not started taking figures, showed $411,149,000 pledges actually received and accompanied by payment of the 10 per cent initial installment. This covers receipts up to last night, but does not include millions in figures on which the initial payment has not been made, or has been made but not yet reported officially by banks. The total tomorrow night is expected to be several hundred million dollars greater. In order to raise $6,000,000,000 it would be necessary to get a daily average of $83,000,000 and at regular intervals approximately a billion dollars should have been subscribed by this time.

Reported sales by districts were as follows: Boston, $67,150,150; New York, $139,418,500; Philadelphia, $23,077,900; Cleveland, $16,213,100; Richmond, $14,152,750; Atlanta, $1,674,000; Chicago, $27,052,750; St. Louis, $60,570,950; Minneapolis, $18,448,750; Dallas, $4,812,450; San Francisco, $37,955,950.

In connection with the efforts to prevent a slackening of campaign morale, that practically all of the $5-billion dollars to be raised will have been spent by the time it is received at the treasury. The government already is paying out money at the daily rate of $60,000,000, which is substantially the money to be raised in the fourth loan. The $1,500,000,000 has been received in the last two months from sale of certificates of indebtedness, but these securities are only temporary expedients to be paid out of receipts from Liberty bonds. Consequently the government is already spending its fourth Liberty loan money.

How it is going.

In September, it was shown by a treasury report today, the government paid out $4,857,254,000, or $248,000,000 less than the $5,105,000,000 record of August. Of this amount, $1,274,000,000 (Continued on page 8)

SEIZE WIRELESS ON SPITZBERGEN

British Take Possession of German Properties—Valuable Mines

LONDON, Oct. 2.—Seizure by the British expedition of German mining property and other developments in Spitzbergen, including a big wireless installation, is reported by the Express, with the intimation that the work of developing immensely rich iron and coal deposits is proceeding. The expedition to Spitzbergen sailed a few months ago, under the protection of the British navy. Sir Ernest Shackleton was the commander, but he was subsequently obliged to leave to take up other duties.

His successor, F. W. S. Jones, who returned to London yesterday, gave an enthusiastic description of the vast mineral wealth which hitherto had been merely tapped to a limited extent.

Mr. Jones said the expedition met with considerable difficulties, including encounters with rabid German submarines.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—The seizure of Spitzbergen by the British is expected here to prove of great assistance to the government in the north at Archangel. A short time ago an American engineer made an exhaustive examination of the coal and other deposits in Spitzbergen, and it was largely due to his report that the British expedition, whose success is now reported was undertaken.

BRITISH AIRPLANE FORCE BOMBARDS CITY OF TREVES

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The Treves railway was bombed by the British independent air force Tuesday, according to an official statement issued tonight.

Treves is in the Rhine province of Prussia and claims to be the oldest town in the German empire. The railroad passing through Treves runs northeastward to Coblenz and Cologne and southwestward to Metz and Strasbourg.

DAMASCUS FALLS TO BRITISH ARMY

Ends Turkish Resistance to Allies in Syria

LONDON, Oct. 2.—Damascus, capital of Syria, was occupied by General Allenby's forces Tuesday morning, according to a British war office statement today.

LONDON, Oct. 2, 5 p. m.—(Damascus)—More than 7000 Turks were taken prisoner when General Allenby's forces occupied Damascus, the war office announced tonight.

Damascus is the Turkish base in Syria and Palestine and its fall probably means the end of all Turkish resistance to General Allenby in Palestine and Syria. The ancient city is the junction point of railroad leading to the port of Beirut and Aleppo, 150 miles northeast.

Allenby's most important Turkish base in this region of Asia Minor as it is a junction point of the railroads from Palestine and Mesopotamia.

Damascus has a population of about 100,000. It is one of the holy cities of the Mohammedans and the Arabs regard it as one of the four paradises on earth.

Capture of Damascus marks an advance of 120 miles by General Allenby's forces since September 29. In that time the British have captured more than 50,000 prisoners, destroyed at least three Turkish armies and driven the enemy from Palestine and a great part of Syria.

IS DETERMINED TO KEEP SLAV STATES

Austrian Statesman Declares Central Powers to Fight in Balkans

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 2.—Baron Von Hunsacker, in his address to the Austrian lower house of parliament Tuesday, after making a long and detailed report on the situation resulting from the withdrawal of Bulgaria from the war, declared the Teutonic allies had taken measures for ameliorating the situation.

"We are making good progress," said the premier, "and according to communications from competent quarters, I can declare that we have done everything to permit us calmly to face the further development of the Balkan affair. On this front our troops standing shoulder to shoulder with the German troops, are splendidly preserving our inviolable alliance."

"As in battle, so we will go hand-in-hand in the work for peace. Meanwhile, it is not permitted to lift our eyes from the terrible welter of battle. The dreadful check humanity is suffering in the march of civilization by this prolonged trial is becoming ever clearer."

Baron Von Hunsacker urged that it was the injunction of humanity, as well as reason, that means should be sought to adjust the differences of the contending groups of powers by a just understanding. This justice, Hungary had not failed to do, often under unfavorable circumstances, in common with her allies.

The speaker alluded to the formal appeal of the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister of September 14, requesting unbinding peace discussions, and declared that the future for which all humanity was longing for which all humanity was longing for the safeguarding of the existence of all people "can assuredly not be expected of the sword."

Peace, Baron Von Hunsacker asserted, must be the result of an understanding and must not be forced from one side on peoples. Otherwise, he said, although in itself expedient and just, it would be felt to be unbearable and a thorn would be left which would constantly menace order.

Will Keep Bosnia.

The premier declared that Austria-Hungary did not intend to abandon its good right to Bosnia and Herzegovina, and that it must be guided by the consideration of the legitimate wishes of the races concerned, while also safeguarding Austrian interests.

"Nobody can force us to relinquish our right," exclaimed the premier. "It can only be done by negotiation, in which case we shall know how to carry our standpoint."

"We must at least have the assurance that measures to be taken will correspond to the requirements of the peace."

CENTRAL BOARDS UNITE ALLIES IN BIG WAR MACHINE

Military, Ship, Munitions, Food and Finance Interests Coordinated
FOOD CONTROL NOW AT LONDON
While Munitions Production Is Handled From Paris

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—The planned centralized control of all the economic forces of the nations fighting Germany is a fact at last.

It applies the principles of the unified military command to raw materials, manufactured products, shipping, finance, food, and the export and import relations of the United States and the co-belligerents.

The great plan was worked out by President Wilson's so-called war cabinet and the Allied missions. It has been approved by the President and the premiers of the Entente nations.

No announcement of its consummation has been made here, in fact it has rather been withheld from public view. Some of the details and the fact that it actually is in operation have become known through developments in Paris and London.

Five Councils.

Co-ordination of effort by the associated governments, in addition to military and naval activity, amounting to centralized control, is built around the five inter-allied councils—war, shipping, munitions, food and finance. Under these special bodies completion of a common economic and industrial program is now being undertaken, principally in London and Paris, and limited to the following cases:

Where two or more governments are interested in supplies which must be transported overseas to supplement deficiencies in local production; or, where several sources of supplies should be agreed upon, amounting to the allotment and method of their distribution or utilization; or, where there might without agreement be competition between governments in procuring supplies or a wasteful duplication of productive effort.

The program will be co-ordinating with finance through the inter-allied finance commission; with shipping through the inter-allied shipping council, and with export and import relations through an inter-allied board made up of heads or representatives of the American trade board and similar departments of the other governments.

Commodity Committees.

Subordinate to the inter-allied councils are being organized commodity committees or executives. While the inter-allied councils are composed of men of lesser position but experts in their particular commodity, the committees will deal directly with virtually all material and commodities for the prosecution of the war. These include nitrate, tungsten and tin, international pooling agreements which have recently been effected in Paris and London, non-ferrous metals, iron and steel, hides and leather, rubber, wool and all other raw materials or manufactured products of which there may be a shortage, or where competitive and shipping conditions, and the local production and distribution question, making for trade agreements for these latter will be effected as the necessity arises.

The committees will be responsible to the five inter-allied councils.

Any differences arising as to allocation of ships or materials or other matters of a serious or vital nature, on which the members of the inter-allied councils are unable to agree, will be brought to President Wilson and the premiers of the Allied nations for settlement.

Food Control at London.

Food control already has been centered in London, following Food Administrator Hoover's recent visit abroad to attend the inter-allied food conference in London. One of the results of his trip, it became known today, was the perfection of the President's plan for centralized control, and its acceptance by England, France and Italy.

The munitions council meets in Paris with two American representatives, Assistant Secretary of War Stimson, for the war department, and L. L. Summers of the war industries board, personal representative of Chairman Baruch of that organization.

PARIS, Oct. 2.—(Havas).—Anti-German and pro-Allied riots are in progress throughout Bulgaria, according to a Zurich dispatch to the Journal. It is added that rumors are current of the formation of a national cabinet in Bulgaria under the leadership of Dr. Minkoff and Dr. Gheorghiev, released from prison a few days ago, under action by King Ferdinand.

JUNKERS LOOSEN THEIR GRIP ON GERMANY'S POLITICS?

Pressure From Inside and Outside Empire Having Effect
KAISER TRYING TO KEEP LEAD
Invites Socialists to Office—Similar Attempts in Austria

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 2.—Berlin advisers received here today the Prussian upper house has rejected the motion to introduce suffrage based on education and passed an equal direct suffrage measure in accordance with the government bill, in addition of an extra vote for persons over 50 years of age.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 2.—Czech-Slovak leaders have sharply rejected an offer made to them to enter an Austrian coalition cabinet, according to a Vienna dispatch printed in the Frankfort Gazette.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 2.—Vice-chancellor von Fock has definitely declined the chancellorship, according to the Berlin newspapers.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Stark are multiplying in number reaching the state department from various agencies in neutral European countries of the rapid weakening of the despotic control which the military elements in Germany and Austria have imposed upon the civilian population. American officials are becoming convinced that the imperial rulers have been forced, however reluctantly, to the conviction that if they are to preserve their dynasties from destruction they must yield to the growing demands of the civilian element for the right of participation in the government during their crisis.

Military parties have retained their control only because of their asserted ability to secure a military decision that would confirm German supremacy over continental Europe and British seas as well. Now that the German armies are being defeated and driven back into Germany and the nation is confronted with the painful certainty of an invasion and the execution of justice for the wrongs inflicted upon the French and Belgians, the influence of the pan-German and military parties is waning. It is believed that the two emperors have decided that they are to retain the support of the people, they must turn to the civilian parties they have been demanding a voice in affairs.

CONGRESS WANTS MONTH'S REST

Members Feel That Their Home Folks Demand Attention

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Plans for suspension of congress over the November elections were revived today by congressional leaders, after a survey of senate and house legislative calendars.

The seven-billion dollar army emergency appropriation bill, now before the house; the conference report on the emergency agricultural bill, which was time prohibition rider, pending before both houses, and formalities in the senate of laying aside the woman suffrage resolution were listed for preferential consideration.

Democratic and Republican leaders in the house reached a tentative agreement today to suspend the house for Friday and begin a series of three-day recesses until Oct. 14, when it is planned to take up the army appropriation measure. Prompt passage of the bill by both houses seemed assured and it was expected that by October 20 congress could adjourn for a month over the elections, for the meantime the senate was expected to pass the power bill and both houses act on the agricultural measure.

The woman suffrage resolution will come before the senate tomorrow on the motion of chairman Jones of the woman suffrage committee, for reconsideration of the 33 to 11 vote by which it was lost recently. The motion, however, probably will not be pressed to a vote until after the elections.

Although leaders are certain that both senate and house virtually can suspend work by the three-day recess plan, the new proposal for a month's recess from about October 20 to November 20 is dependent on the progress made in the senate today. A committee in revising the army revenue bill.

HUNS SHOW FEAR OF BEING CAUGHT ON BELGIAN COAST

Americans Clearing Enemy Out of Argonne; Fierce Fighting Beyond St. Quentin

PARIS, Oct. 2.—The Martin announces that the Germans are evacuating Lille and that the commander there has requisitioned all means of transportation, even wheelbarrows and baskets to take away the booty. The newspaper adds that the evacuation of the townspeople to Belgian towns near the German border is being pursued hastily.

A despatch from the Dutch border asserts that the German governor-general in Belgium has given secret instructions to the governors of the provinces to send hastily all German archives to Brussels.

Allied aviators have flown over Brussels dropping thousands of pamphlets telling the public to have a little more patience—that their hour of liberation is near.

By The Associated Press.

Again the Germans are in retreat on an important sector of the western battle front in France. The scene of the new retrograde movement is a wide front north and south of La Bassée canal.

The continuation by the Entente Allied forces of their brilliant achievements in restoring Belgian Flanders and the expulsion of the enemy from further territory in France from the region of Cambrai to Verdun evidently has brought the Germans to the realization that the great bend in the line from Menin to the east of Arras is likely to prove another such bend, and that the St. Mihiel salient unless they are fast enough of foot to move eastward, giving up Lille, Lens and Douai and straighten their line from the vicinity of Cambrai to Belgium.

On all the other six battle fronts from Belgium to Verdun, the Entente forces are keeping up their successful advances, although the Germans everywhere, except northwest of Rheims, have materially stiffened their front and are offering strong resistance to further inroads into their territory.

Driving in Flemish Wedge.

In Belgian Flanders, the wedge of the Belgian, British and French troops has penetrated still further eastward and southward from Dixmude, and only a few miles more will be required by the Allied troops to give them positions by which Ostend and other German ports will be made inaccessible, and, indeed, the entire North Sea coast now in German hands put in jeopardy. British warships are now violently bombarding the coast and the Germans are reported to be evacuating their guns eastward, fearful of their capture.

Many additional towns have been captured by the Allies in this region and numerous prisoners have been taken. The important railroad junction point of Roulers is all but in the hands of the Allies, while southward from Roulers, the British have cut the Roulers-Menin railway at two places and are in the process of investing Menin.

Hold All St. Quentin.

The French are now in full possession of St. Quentin and have passed on eastward to the Hindenburg system between St. Quentin and Le Cateau has been completely smashed by Field Marshal Haig's forces with whom the Americans are brigaded, and further ground has been won in the outskirts of Cambrai and north of that city. At one point north of St. Quentin, the British were forced to give up a village under a heavy counter-attack by fresh German troops.

A band of Americans who had outdistanced their fellows in arms were surrounded on one sector by the Germans, but were released after two days, during which they killed many of the enemy who sought to capture them. Another band of Americans, the St. Thierry group, has been captured and north of the cathedral city the remnants of Belghem have been reached by the French. The Germans along this front are in retreat to their old 1917 line, for the French have reached the Aisne canal at several points.

The French in Champagne and the Americans on their right have made further gains against the Germans in the clearing out of the Argonne forest and pressing northeastward on both sides of this bastion.

HOLD ADVANTAGE NORTH OF RHEIMS

WITH THE FRENCH ARMY IN FRANCE, Oct. 2.—(AP).—The Associated Press—General Bertie's forces in the course of the night and this morning completed their conquests of St. Thierry, north of Rheims, occupying Pouillon and taking the fort of St. Thierry.

The French now dominate the plain to the east and threaten the German positions all along the Aisne-Marne canal from Reims to the north and including the fort of Brimont, where were posted the guns that accomplished the greater part of the destruction of Rheims.

The French lines were pushed slightly northward towards Bethune, the conquest of the important positions

RASH AMERICANS RESCUED FROM FAR IN HUN LINES

Surrounded by Germans, Make Magnificent Stand for Three Days
RESCUED BY BRITISH FORCE
Ground Strewn With Enemy Dead; Beyond Canal Bulwark

BRITISH HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, Oct. 2.—(Reuters).—The contingent of Americans, who had been holding out since Sunday to a far advanced position between Cambrai and St. Quentin against greater superior numbers, have been rescued.

In our attacks around Vendhuille yesterday, we were able to fight through and relieve this party, numbering some hundreds, who, having taken up their position Sunday night, were surrounded by the Germans early Monday.

Notwithstanding that they were opposed by such superior numbers and only possessed the ammunition and rations which they themselves were carrying, the Americans made a magnificent resistance and the ground was strewn with German dead.

LONDON, Thursday, Oct. 3.—Describing the rescue of a contingent of Americans who for two days had been cut off from their comrades in an advanced position between Cambrai and St. Quentin, the Staffs correspondent at British headquarters says it was one of the most dramatic incidents of the war.

The Americans rushed forward with too high courage on Sunday, the correspondent writes, and became completely and deeply encircled. There they remained until Tuesday, when a British unit forced its way across the canal and released them.

The American stand and the relief of the party probably will become incidents famous in the annals of the war.

The total cost of eighteen months of war to October 1 was shown to be $18,856,945,000 or three times as much as will be raised by the fourth loan. For this nation's war activities $12,363,582,000 was spent and for loans to Allies to $6,527,314,000. Taxes have brought in $1,153,288,000, and Liberty loans or certificates of indebtedness about $12,000,000,000. The harvest from war savings and thrift stamps has been $745,169,000.

Pacific $97,000,000

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—Accurate reports of the amounts already subscribed in the Twelfth Federal Reserve district for the Fourth Liberty loan could not be made tonight by George K. Weeks, campaign manager for the district, but he estimated the amount to be $37,000,000. This amount does not represent money actually in bank, but pledges in addition to cash payment already made.

Local campaign managers announced tonight that San Francisco's total subscriptions to date were $14,473,210, new subscriptions received during the day amounting to $7,398,660.

The fight for the honor of naming the ten new ships which are to bear the names of the allies in the district showing the largest percentage of over-subscription, is becoming brisk. San Francisco and Los Angeles are practically tied for the honor in Class A cities. Oakland is leading all Class B cities, while in Class C Tacoma leads. San Diego and Pasadena are the chief contenders in Class D, while Long Beach, Cal., is heading the Class E list.

Sacramento and Yuba counties in Washington lead the entire district with totals of 185 and 175 per cent, respectively, actually in bank. Plumas county still leads California counties with 131.9, while Kern shows 103.5 and Madera reports 10 per cent.

Major divisions in the district rank in the following order in percentages of subscriptions already reported, it was announced at headquarters: Alaska, Hawaii, Oregon, Utah and Northern California. Southern California, Washington and Idaho were not given ratings because of incomplete reports.

HOW THEY TAKE IT IN UNITED STATES

LONDON, (Correspondence of The Associated Press).—One Englishman writes from Kansas City to a London newspaper to express his surprise because Americans are not boasting over the achievements of the American soldiers in the war.

Before the Americans began to fight he was much impressed by evidences of great enthusiasm for the war and little realization of the sacrifices involved.

"I wondered what would happen when the Americans had their first big affair," he writes. "I anticipated an unprecedented burst of patriotism which would probably exaggerate what had been accomplished by the American troops."

"The German drive started, and the reports came in of the way the boys had held the line and stood firm, and, in fact had done all that their home folks had expected of them. There seemed to be an ominous calm when the news arrived. I began to look for the uproar, for the enthusiasm which my previous experience had led me to expect."

"Now come the critics. The calm continued, the man said. 'We're getting a lot of credit. I wonder if it's true.' Women, whom I had heard again and again making remarks to the effect that 'the boys would show them how to fight,' were absolutely subdued. Not a single hostile expression have I heard. On all sides people are wearing a quiet smile. The external enthusiasm seems to have vanished right into their hearts, and today the United States is realizing with quiet pride the seriousness and tremendous possibilities of the cause it has undertaken."

"When I read in dispatches from England of the impression the Americans were making by their modesty and their quiet way of accomplishing things, I was inclined to be skeptical. I am no longer skeptical. The past few weeks of the war seem to have changed everything, and I now know more of the United States as a nation than I could have learned had I lived here for thirty years of peace-time."

DEMOCRACY?

With the German army showing every sign of crumbling on the western front, with the Teutonic hold on the Balkans broken, with Bulgaria out of the war, with Turkey standing hesitant on the brink, with Austria barely holding her discordant self together,—in the midst of this situation, sounds very like those of a democracy are coming out of Germany. Germany wants peace. President Wilson has announced, and reiterated, that he would not even consider terms offered by the present rulers of the German empire. By their own acts, their word is worthless. The Kaiser knows, the militarists know, the Junkers know, that as a condition precedent to even a day in court, as a necessary condition to a seat at the peace table, Germany must effect at least a parliamentary government, with responsible authority in the reins, with cabinet ministers responsible thereto.

However, it is well to be cautious for hood traps. These are not at all confined to evacuated terrain in the German army's retreat, but may be expected to be left hidden in the cherished political ground seemingly being evacuated. There has been much camouflage in this war, and certainly not all of it is confined to hiding roads, and gun nests and ships sailing the sea. Undoubtedly the German statesmen know the art of camouflaging an autocracy so that it will pass with the unwary as a pure democracy. All through the war, the German statesmen have shown an evasiveness and duplicity that justify the world in being on its guard. Fear the German bearing gentle peace in his bloody hand. The voice may be the voice of democracy, but the hand is likely to be the mailed fist of autocracy.

Duplicity has not only been the attitude of German statesmen during this war, but there is a definite pre-war philosophy justifying this very conduct. There was also a definite philosophy justifying ruthlessness in warfare, but a charitable world regarded it more as the logical conclusion of speculative premises, than as a practical working principle. But the war showed that with the militarists, at least, ruthlessness was a very concrete thing—a routine part of the day's work. It is unfair to assume that with the statesmen of the same school, the philosophic principles of duplicity, deceit and false pretenses are not as real working principles?

For instance Treitschke announces that it is necessary for the statesman to have at hand a stock of inherited principles of morality. Merely as stage property, you understand. A situation might conceivably arise where it would be necessary to trot them out. May not his disciples think the time has arrived to gather up a stock of principles of democracy? Again Treitschke justifies deception in the interest of the Fatherland. It is a monkish type of statesman, he says, who stands with smug self-laudation amid the ruins of the Fatherland and says, "I have never lied."

All of which gives a doubting world good reason for looking with suspicion upon the nascent German democracy. However, it does not mean that it must be rejected off-hand. Neither does the fact that the democracy apparently is being imposed from above vitiate it. It may justify a further suspicion—and it may not. It may, and probably does mean, that the pressure from below is so great that the Hohenzollerns prefer a bloodless, to a bloody revolution. One of the other seems inevitable. It may be that the Hohenzollerns prefer a shadow of power to total extinction. If so, conditions within the German empire are much worse than anyone on the outside has supposed.

In other words, the German democracy, if any such thing can come out of the empire, must be judged as a fact. It must give the counter-sign, stand and be searched. And if it can pass muster, that only means that we will speak to it, admit it to the peace table. All the conditions of peace are still to be worked out. The people of Germany cannot escape responsibility for the government they have upheld nor for the things that their government has done. There must be reparation, but the world will at least discuss with a democratic Germany what that reparation must be.

STILL UNREPENTANT

Even to this day, the statesmen of Germany and Austria cannot talk peace without having their tongues in their cheeks, as is illustrated by the speech just reported of Baron Hunsarek in the Austrian parliament. While bolstering up the hopes of the representatives of the people with fine words that there is still a chance for victory, he touches directly on the "immediate cause" of the Great War—the Austrian seizure of Bosnia and Herzegovina, in spite of international agreements and contrary to the manifest wishes of the inhabitants of these provinces.

No one can force us to relinquish our rights to these provinces," Hunsarek declares. "It can only be done by negotiation, in which case we shall know how to carry our standpoint."

The Teutonic confidence in its diplomatic as well as its military skill is here made plain. But it also gives the lie to all recent pretenses that the Central Powers were for the rights of small nations. Austria, it is declared, "has a right to Bosnia and Herzegovina."

The people of these districts are nearly all Slavs, all Christians except for a few Mohammedans swept into this territory in the days of the Turkish conquest. The provinces have historically the same relationship to the Turkish empire as have Serbia and Bulgaria. The feeling in western Europe, which gradually broke up the Turkish empire and gave Greece, Bulgaria, Rumania and Serbia their freedom, should also have given independence to Bosnia and Herzegovina. The inhabitants desire to belong to the same political government as their fellow Slavs in Serbia and Montenegro. Under the treaty of Berlin, in 1878, they were to be administered by the government of Austria as a preliminary to the setting up of a nationality. It was the violation of this understanding, when Austria annexed the two provinces in 1908, that set going the pro-Serb agitation that culminated in the Austrian ultimatum against Serbia in 1914.

For Austria now to affirm its determination to keep Bosnia and Herzegovina is to proclaim the unrepentance for the Balkan bargaining with Germany that led up to Europe's present devastation.

TOGETHER

Probably no fact will stand out more clearly, after the tumult and shouting of this war has died, than that the victory that rests with the Allied arms is to be credited to the capacity that the Allies have shown for getting together. By many this will simply mean that Foch was selected to be commander in chief of the Allied armies, and some superficially minded persons will give the whole credit to Foch. Without in the least detracting from the skill of the commander and the wisdom of those who chose him and are supporting him, it will be proper to observe that Foch himself is but a part of a vast system of co-operation which has made the word "Allies" really mean something in this war.

A consciousness of right, we had before. A horror of the imperial notion of world government was widespread over the world, but helpless. A determination to "do or die" was manifest everywhere, but to what purpose? It was at last clear that the only way that Germany could be overcome was not with its own weapons, but with superior weapons. There must be the same organization.

There must be the same military discipline. There must be the same elimination of waste. There must be the same taking advantage of all the possibilities of science and of art, to cope with the enemy.

But in addition to these, there must be a spirit of democracy that should make the populations of the Allied nations a living part of the soul of the war, not merely its slaves. The people of the Allied nations must be conscious of the wrongs they were fighting to right, the dangers they were arming themselves to avoid. They must be strong both in fervor and in intelligence. There must be both the will-to-victory, of which we have heard so much from the German side, but this right to victory. There could be, it was seen, no real democracy without an intelligent people.

This was the foundation for the alliance, but an entirely insufficient piece of war machinery. How this last has been built has been only partly made known to us, but it is a remarkable story of administration on a democratic foundation. The inter-Allied councils, the inter-Allied committees, the boards of which Foch and other military leaders are merely the forefront, have been the means of making our democratic solidarity effective. That is why, in spite of military conservatism that threatened to prevent cooperation, that is why with local jealousies and personal ambitions constantly interfering, the people united in the alliance against Germany have fully justified their claim to be fighting a humane and democratic war. They have been bound together by self-evident right, and have fought in one faith and in one union.

WHO IS "BOSS?"

The "boss" in a democracy is the man whom the people trust to do their business. Who is it that is boss in the countries of the anti-German alliance today?

It has been agreed that all questions to be submitted to final authority for decision, from the inter-Allied councils, shall come to President Wilson for the United States, and to the prime ministers, for the other Allies. That means Lloyd-George for Great Britain, Clemenceau for France and Orlando for Italy. President Poincaré of France, notable statesman as he is, King George of England and King Victor Emmanuel of Italy are not even mentioned. They have no responsibility. The President of France, like the two kings, is a person used to fill the form of power, but to have none of the substance. The President of the United States is the only man in the world who is the head of a great nation, and at the same time speaks for that nation. In Germany, as in the old Russia, the ruler speaks for the nation without that nation's consent. In France and in the so-called constitutional monarchies, the nominal executive speaks for no one, not even for himself, and the mouthpiece of the nation is a "minister."

We can be glad that we have a political system in which the nation consciously proclaims to the rest of mankind the responsibility of its administrators to the intent of the people.

Forty Years Ago.

The Boss Tree: Messrs. McKlean, Manley and Hubbs of Visalia, shipped from Tulare city last week, a section of one of the largest, if not the largest, of all the big trees that have yet been discovered in California. The tree from which this section was taken was 111 feet in circumference at the butt end, and stood 250 feet in height, at which elevation it was broken off. At the breaking off place it was twelve feet in diameter. These gentlemen have been at work getting this section ready for exhibition for nearly a year. The section is fourteen feet in height and was cut from the body of the tree twelve feet from the ground.

Fire at Merced: Last Tuesday morning a fire broke out at Merced in the Studebaker saloon on Seventeenth, between M and L streets and destroyed half a block of buildings before it could be brought under control. The fire, it is thought, was the work of an incendiary. The total loss is estimated at $15,000, covered by $9,000 insurance—sixteen companies sharing the loss. That place has been visited by several destructive conflagrations recently, affecting to a great extent the business interests of the town.

Twenty Years Ago.

San Francisco Correspondence: J. J. Rahill, the bookkeeper in the Republican's business office, came down last Monday morning and in the afternoon went to San Jose to join his family. Mrs. Rahill and the children have been spending the summer there. They returned home with Mr. Rahill later in the week. Mr. Rahill called to see me, but stayed only three minutes; when Colonel Mappes was down about a month ago he came in the same time, but in all visited only three minutes. You have no idea how people from Fresno act when down here on a week's vacation; the change of climate seems to affect them. They rush around hither and thither as if one day were as precious as a whole decade of life in Fresno. They're your best friends, too, but they will not lose valuable time in merely calling to see somebody.—M. M.

Ten Years Ago.

Thirty years at San Quentin is the sentence pronounced by Superior Judge Austin on Tony Lovell, the Coolidge kidnapper yesterday. And the turning state's evidence against his partner in crime of Grover Cleveland Rogers saved him but ten years, his sentence being fixed at twenty years in state prison. The two men carried Edna Domingue away from her home one dark night last June and took her away into the mountain fastnesses of the oil region. There they attempted to hold her for $5000 ransom but their plans were foiled by the timely arrival of the sheriff and his posse.

Great Damage Done By British at Frankfurt

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The British air ministry issues the story of a neutral resident who has just returned from Germany with information on the effects of recent British air raids over the Rhine provinces, particularly on Frankfurt.

The central part of the Frankfurt main station was so extremely damaged by bombs that trains have not been able to enter and are being operated from hastily constructed platforms some distance from the station. The population of Frankfurt, according to this neutral, are in a state of nervous excitement. At the least unusual noise the people retire to their cellars, not daring to sleep in their apartments.

As to the moral effect of the raids, the neutral says he heard nothing but the most depressing talk of the neutral residents in Germany and the prospects of further attacks from the air.

LIVINGSTONES WELL KNOWN IN KERN COUNTY

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 30.—The Nathan Livingstone family of Los Angeles, whose sons were arrested for alleged evasion of the military draft, and who fled to Central America, formerly lived in Kern county. They conducted stores at Bakersfield and Maricopa, and in the days of the Kern river oil boom in 1900, the elder Livingstone was in one of the newly formed oil companies. He amassed quite a fortune in the oil game, it is said.

A great many old timers in Bakersfield and Maricopa recall the Livingstones of the early days in the oil development in Kern county. Nathan Livingstone, the head of the family, was one of the men who made large and rapid money in the development of the Kern river oil field. He came with the first companies that drilled in that section, and he made a quick fortune, which he later increased by fortunate oil speculation in the Maricopa field, where he was one of the old Jersey Petroleum company. For a dozen years Nathan Livingstone operated a chain of stores in this county and in southern California. He had three in Los Angeles. His Bakersfield store was known as "Imperial" and the one in Maricopa as the "Minol."

For the past five years the Livingstones have made their home in the exclusive Wilshire district in Los Angeles.

They have had ample means, and have made frequent trips to Europe. Now they are in Venezuela, South America, under arrest, charged with escaping from the United States to evade draft service in the war. They have admitted their identity, and they have been traveling for months under false names and forged passports.

The government agents have been on the trail of the Livingstones since early in August, and have now arranged to bring them back to Los Angeles for trial. The newspaper telegraph columns are filled with items about the arrest of the Livingstones in Venezuela.

The father of the family is Nathan Livingstone. His wife is Matilda Livingstone. They have three sons and two daughters. When the draft was called last year one of the sons, George Washington, went to Costa Rica before the draft was made effective. The son Robert also fled for Costa Rica, after he had registered. It is said, when the draft officers came to investigate the disappearance of Robert, it is reported, they found that the parents and sisters had aided the young men in escaping their draft duties. The parents were indicted in the federal courts.

Two parents gave bail for $10,000 each and then, according to the authorities, they secretly planned to escape from the United States and avoid trial for draft evasion. When the case was called in the Los Angeles courts the Livingstones were missing. Government detectives were not slow in tracing the fugitives. They were trailed to Mexico, and then through

DRIVE CAPTAINS LAUNCH NEW OFFENSIVE

WOMEN CAPTAINS ROLL UP TOTAL OF $196,850 IN LOAN DRIVE

Precinct Captains Break All Former Loan Records for Opening Week of Drive and Seek New High Mark

The women of Fresno—the mothers and sisters and wives of the boys who are facing death on No Man's Land, who are crashing through the Hun lines without thought of themselves, the women who are mothers to all the boys "Over There"—have plunged into the "back home" fight for peace with victory with a spirit unequalled in any former drive.

It's different now to those good "mothers of men" of Fresno county. War has been brought to their doorsteps with its persistent companion, talking at its side. And in thirty-five Fresno county homes gold stars have been bravely hung in the windows by brave mothers to herald the glory of their boy's sacrifice.

And with the kind of determination that carried the women of England into the fields to plow and into the factories to toll with dynamite and into other factories to allow their skin to turn yellow in the fumes of deadly chemicals, the women of Fresno in the fourth Liberty Loan drive went forth to show the boys who broke the line at Chateau Thierry and cleared the salient of St. Mihiel of Hunns but those they killed that "back home"—the "back home" of all their dreams, the "back home" they are fighting to keep clean from Hunnish filth is standing by them in their tremendous hour.

It was this determination that

Honor Flags to Be Awarded to 100 Per Cent Firms

Here are the specifications of the honor pennant that every business house and industrial plant in Fresno county may win if every employee buys a bond—not every employee except one or two or three—but 100 employees out of every 100—here are the specifications:

"Two feet, 8 inches by five feet, ending in a point."

And on the pennant is a white rectangle on which may be sewed "100 per cent" or "95 per cent" or "75 per cent" or "50 per cent."

Upon award of the fight to this pennant made by the County Liberty Loan committee in conformity with the 100 per cent provisions adopted by Secretary McAdoo, the name and address of the firm to whom the award has been made will be forwarded at once to the State Liberty Loan headquarters in San Francisco.

The pennant design is the copyrighted property of the Treasury Department and is an adaptation of the "Honor Flag" design in pennant shape. It is made of canvas reinforced with brass for flying. It is manufactured only by specially authorized makers.

Firms awarded the 100 per cent window cards yesterday were the following:

$742,000 MARK IS REACHED IN FRESNO

Entire County Total Is $1,314,500 With Quota of $4,500,000

County Cities Show Small Gain Because of Error in Adding

Fresno climbed up close to the three quarters of a million mark yesterday in the fourth Liberty Loan drive for its quota of $1,000,000. And with the city the whole county climbed, too. Before the day ended the grand total for Fresno county was $1,314,500.

The gain seems small over yesterday's mark, but the slight increase in the county outside of Fresno city was due to a duplication of totals at Liberty Loan headquarters. The detailed figures tabulated on this page are correct to the cent.

"And they show," declared Campaign Manager Fred R. Fox last night, "exactly how far the city has to go to reach its allotment of $2,000,000 and how far the county outside of the city has to go to reach its quota of $1,400,000. The distance to the goal is long. We are moving slowly ahead—too slowly. But I expect that as soon as Fresno realizes that all the other counties in the valley are marching a head at quick-step, Fresno will catch up and move to the front."

VISIT FROM STATE MOTOR INSPECTOR

M. T. Gratz, state motor inspector, arrived in Fresno yesterday from Sacramento to check up improperly certified automobiles and to rectify the matter as much as possible. He had approximately fifty checks of autos not properly certified, but believe this might be due to the large number of out of town visitors attending the fair. Considerable carelessness is noticed in regard to machines not being properly certified. The certificate has much the same purpose in the sale of a machine as an abstract in a realty deal. Mr. Gratz will possibly remain in Fresno all week.

SUPERIOR COURT NOTES

Judge Cashin yesterday delivered the findings of the superior court giving the Bank and Trust Company of Central California judgment for $1,000 against James W. Gearhart. Gearhart is to pay the costs. The suit arose over the sale of a motor car.

Judge Austin granted a final decree of divorce to Bessie Galante from Aniel Galante.

Julie Blumberg and Pauline Blumberg applied to the superior court to change their surname to Roberts. They allege that owing to the war with Germany, their names caused them embarrassment in business and socially.

Assessor G. P. Cummings has appointed Thomas E. Preston deputy county assessor.

The Bank and Trust Company of Central California has filed an attachment against the land of J. A. Schlottbauer and his wife to satisfy claims of the debt to that institution. Mrs. Schlottbauer last month declared a homestead on the place near Barstow. There is a mortgage of $12,000 against the ranch.

The Fowell Undertaking company yesterday filed articles of incorporation. R. A. Powell, Leila H. Powell and Irvine P. Allen are the stockholders. The corporation will be capitalized at $50,000 with 500 shares, 375 preferred and 125 common stock.

A Stubborn Cough
Loosens Right Up

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Ready and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in the throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The small throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, tracheitis, whooping cough, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get a full pint—a family supply—if much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with all directions, and don't accept any cheap substitute. Guaranteed to give a complete relief or your money promptly refunded. See Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

JOSIAH WALTON, PIONEER, PASSES

End Comes After Long Illness; Father of
U. S. Marshal

After several years of intermittent illness, the past seven weeks of which he was bed-ridden, Josiah Walton, retired rancher and well-known resident, died yesterday at the family residence, 141 Abby street. He was 71 years old and a native of Clarksville, Ark. He was a veteran of the Civil war, entering the Confederate army when but 15 years old, and he served throughout the entire four years.

He was married in Texas fifty years ago and later migrated to Missouri, from which state he came to California, settling on a ranch near Sanger thirty-five years ago. For the past ten years, the family resided in Fresno.

He was a member of the Independent Order of Foresters. Mr. and Mrs. Walton celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary last January.

He is survived by his wife, one daughter, Miss Lillian Walton of Fresno; five sons, G. R. Walton of San Francisco, C. F. Walton, U. S. marshal in Los Angeles; R. E. Walton, Visalia; W. S. and Jos. Y. with the American army in France; five brothers, C. P., J. T. and J. L. Walton of Fanger; Dr. P. J. Walton of Oakland; W. A. Walton of Big Creek, and J. L. Walton, U. S. guard at the Bremerton navy yards, Wash., and two sisters, Mrs. Robert Elder of Fresno, and Mrs. Sarah Cobb of Fowler.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later by Lisle Bros.

77 BOXES PACKED FOR THE BELGIANS

That Belgian kiddies and Belgian grown-ups may be protected from the arduous winter to come, Fresno chapter of the Red Cross has come to the fore in its campaign for used clothing, and to its credit and the very special credit of the women who have handled the hundreds of garments, there have now been packed ready for shipping seventy-seven large packing boxes. The contents will weigh considerably over six tons, and the material contents are well chosen, well sorted and easily well packed.

Mrs. W. B. Holland, who has borne the brunt of packing these boxes, announced last night that all persons desiring to make contributions to the Belgians, might save their donations until the next drive.

Arrivals Overseas

Elton Poulsen is in France with the American Expeditionary Forces but his friends in Oleander have not forgotten him. Yesterday was his birthday and in his honor a party was given by his mother, Mrs. Otto Poulsen of Oleander. Red, white and blue made up the decorative color scheme and this scheme was carried out even to the ice cream. Rev. Ostrom composed a letter of greeting to Elton, which was signed by all the friends present and will be forwarded to him.

AMERICA'S ANSWER TO BE SHOWN HERE

Film Second in Government Series, "Pershing's Crusaders" Being First

Definite announcement was made yesterday that the long looked for second government war film, "America's Answer" is to be shown at the Liberty theater, this city, on October 13, 14 and 15, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, a week from next Sunday.

This picture, which will take up the story of the American Expeditionary Forces from the place where "Pershing's Crusaders" left off, will be in nine reels. It will illustrate the activities of the Americans in France during the first year of American participation in the war. The pictures were nearly all taken by the U. S. Signal Corps service in the Expeditionary army. They will show the ports used, the docks and railway lines built, the troops in training across the water for direct participation in the defense and restoration of northern France.

It is announced by the government that an equitable share of the proceeds of the patronage of theaters displaying "America's Answer" will go to the national treasury.

RECOGNIZE ARABS AS BELLIGERENTS

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The Allied governments have decided formally to recognize the belligerent status of the Arab forces fighting as auxiliaries with the Allies against the common enemy in Palestine and Syria.

MUSICAL CLUB'S SEAT SALE OPEN

Season's Attractions Unusually Fine This Year

Seat sale for the season's attractions of the Fresno Musical Club, opened yesterday at the White Theater, for the subscribers, and today, at 1 o'clock, the sale will be opened to the public. Because the list of attractions is so unusually fine this year, there is a corresponding demand for seats, so by the old rule of "first come first served," it is to the interests of those planning to enjoy the series, to make their reservations early, while there is yet a good choice of locations.

Not the least magnetic of the artist attractions, will be the return engagement of Louis Graven, the baritone, who delighted a Musical club audience last year.

No concert artist within the past five years has established himself more firmly in the hearts of the musical public than this wonderful young baritone. Some might call him a sensation; others might go so far as to say he just came at the opportune time when the concert field needed something new, but real lovers will say he is not only a wonderful singer, but a very great artist.

Guard, is on his way to Fort Monroe, Virginia, where he will enter the officers' training camp for the coast artillery. Young Nicholls has written his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Nicholls, 111 Diana street, that he has left Fort Winfield Scott, San Francisco.

ARRESTED FOR FORGERY.

C. L. Blinn was arrested late yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Johnson and Clark on a forgery charge. He was arrested at Kingsburg and is alleged to have used a bad check at Clovis.

GEO. H. BARDSLEY GETS COMMISSION

Word has been received that George H. Bardsley, formerly head of the Fresno department of the Fresno high school, has received a commission in the United States army.

Lieutenant Bardsley enlisted in March in the artillery, and after a short period at Fort Winfield Scott, where he attended the specialists' school, he was transferred to Fort Monmouth and has now graduated from the officers' training camp. Lieutenant Bardsley is a graduate of the University of California, and was a member of the Phi Beta Kappa honor society. He acted as instructor in physics in Fresno high school for several years. His wife, who was formerly dean of women in Fresno Junior college. When Lieutenant Bardsley enlisted in the army she removed to Oakland where she is now in business.

FIND AGED MAN DEAD IN HOTEL

The body of an unknown dead man was found in the Oakland rooming house, 2021 Marlborough street, last night, when a guest entered to retire for the night.

As the place had just changed hands and no marks of identification were found on the dead man's clothing, no one recognized him. His death was believed to have been caused by heart failure and an inquest will likely be held by Coroner Bean today. He was about 60 or 70 years old, smooth shaven, and dressed like a laborer. A stage ticket from Fresno to Madera, a cheap watch and a couple of pencils were the only articles found among his effects. He had not registered and no one seems to have seen him enter the place.

Did Pershing Speak for You?

"The German army can be beaten;
the German army will be beaten;
the German army must be beaten."

Pershing counted on every man, woman and child in America to back him up when he said that—back him up with their souls, their flesh, their pocketbooks—to the last drop of blood, to the last dollar.

Our young men are backing him with their blood. Every one of us at home must back him with our dollars—our last dollars—our future dollars.

Owing to increased costs of news-print paper and every other element entering into the cost of publishing a daily newspaper, the publishers generally, throughout the country, have found it necessary to increase both advertising and subscription rates. The War Industries Board, a Government department at Washington, D. C., has also issued the following order, which the newspapers must obey:

SURVEY OF NURSES TO BE MADE BY R. C.

Lists to Be Compiled of Available
Recruits

It is the national plan of the American Red Cross to make a survey of the nursing resources of the United States. The Pacific division is preparing to conduct its survey through local Red Cross chapter organizations. Mrs. D. T. Williams has been appointed division supervisor of the survey by the division bureau of nursing, to direct the work.

Mrs. Lillian L. White, director of the bureau of nursing, in announcing the general plan to the chapters, quotes from a letter to the chairman of the American Red Cross War Council, signed by the surgeon-general of the army and approved by the secretary of war, as follows:

"Because of the increased military program, it is necessary that there should be immediately available, definite information as to the number of graduate nurses available for military service, also supplementary nursing personnel, trained hospital attendants and all others who are qualified to render aid under the direction of graduate nurses in the care of the civilian population. As the Red Cross is the agency for recruiting nurses for the Army Nurse Corps, I wish you would take immediate steps to make a division-wide survey of the nursing resources in order that a sufficient number of graduate nurses may be withdrawn for military service with the least interference of the possible needs of the civilian population."

FRIENDS SOCIETY TO MEET TONIGHT

The first regular meeting of the Friends Educational society will be held tonight at the Fresno high school and among the questions to be discussed are the fourth Liberty Loan drive and other patriotic movements.

The program committee has been authorized to send challenges to Reedley, Dinuba, Fowler, Selma and Evison. Although many members of the society have volunteered their services to their government, the club will be continued this year and it is expected that the activities of the organization will begin soon under the direction of the chairman of the various committees. President Lee Rustigan has requested that all active and honorary members to be present.

CITY TEACHERS GET MONTH'S PAY

Fresno city teachers' salary warrants were drawn by County Treasurer A. D. Ewing yesterday. The teachers are paid at the same time as the other school employees in the city and the total amount for October is $36,065.88. The teachers may get their money either by getting an order at one of the banks or by calling at the treasurer's office at the courthouse.

REPUBLICAN SUBSCRIBERS SHOULD PAY

As announced before by this paper, the War Industries Board, a Federal Government department at Washington, D. C., has issued the following order to the newspaper publishers of this country:

"Discontinue sending paper after date of expiration of subscription unless the subscription is renewed and paid for."

This order is a part of the nationwide movement for conservation as a war measure. It was not initiated by the publishers but by the Government. It is an order TO the publishers and must be obeyed. Consequently, every Republican subscriber who is in arrears on his subscription should pay up before October first, when this order goes into effect, and thereby make it unnecessary to have the order enforced against him.

Please do not wait for a collector to call.

DRAFT MEN DRILL AGAIN TONIGHT

About 100 men attended the military drill at the armory last night, including the cadets and bringing the attendance for the three nights above 300. Captain S. L. Callahan drilled the men, adding squad drills to those previously given. The progress of the draft men who are taking this road to the training camps has been remarkably good. A number of the men by attending each night have already received enough credits to obtain a certificate of preliminary training upon leaving for the camps. All the men who so desire are privileged to attend each of the first four nights of the week and in addition are invited to join the Home Guards' drill Friday nights.

Tonight will be the fourth night of drill. Major Ed Jones will have charge. Lieutenant Edward Detry probably will assist him. Captain Callahan and P. A. Hounst will be Kingsburg to assist the committee there to organize companies according to Provost Marshal Crowder's plans. They will go to Clovis tomorrow night.

TWO TESTS AT POSTOFFICE.
On October 24 there is to be a stenographer-typewriter field service examination at the local postoffice. On the same day there will also be a test for forest and field clerks, the salary of which has been raised to $1100 to $1500. The salary was formerly from $1160 to $1220.

R. C. DISCOURAGES SALE OF CARDS FOR CHRISTMAS

With prognostications of a difficult Christmas, there is a hint also of a cardless Yuletide, or at least, inssofar as Red Cross Christmas cards are concerned. The local Red Cross headquarters are in receipt of the following letter from A. R. C. Derhmann, acting general manager of the Pacific Division, American Red Cross:

"National headquarters has asked division headquarters to do everything possible to discourage the sale of Red Cross Christmas greeting cards by the chapters.

"If your chapter has intended any such activity for this year please comply with the request in the following letter from A. R. C. Derhmann, acting general manager, to the Pacific division:

"It has been brought to the attention of national headquarters that in some divisions Red Cross Christmas greeting cards have been sold at the holiday season. If it has been a practice in your division will you please do everything possible to discourage it this year?"

"The growing feeling against a multiplicity of campaigns makes it more important than ever that the Red Cross discourage individual solicitations and confine its efforts to war fund and membership campaigns."

Save Enough On Your Suit Here To Pay All Your Expenses At The Big Fair

You can have a grand little time at the Fair and be all dolled up, too, if you get one of my high grade suits at $10 less. You cannot get better values than I am offering here, and every time you get a suit here, you save $10.

Come this week and make your selections from my fine Fall stock of Alfred Benjamin clothes. You will be getting real 1916 woolsens and real 1916 prices when you get a suit here.

You will want to be well dressed for the Fair, and yet have money enough to have a good time. You can do both if you get one of my Suits at $10 less.

IT'S A CINCH FOR ME TO SELL SUITS
AT $10 LESS

It's an easy matter for me to sell suits at $10 less because I am a manufacturer as well as a merchant. I have a share in three large factories in New York, and I pay only the price of manufacture. This is the reason I can afford to sell you such high grade suits at so low a price; I can afford to make a small profit on suits because I sell so many of them, and because I sell suits to other merchants, too. Why don't you profit by this direct-from-the-factory-to-you system? You will get as good or better suits, and save $10 every time.

ELIMINATE WATER TO AID PRODUCTION

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—Reports filed with the California State Mining Bureau for the week ending September 22, 1918, show 11 new wells ready to drill, making a total of 563 wells reported since the first of the year.

Although new wells reported are the principal indicator of what may be expected toward maintaining the oil production of the state, a study of the detailed report of proposed deepening and redrilling operations, of which there were nine listed during the week, throws some interesting sidelights on what is being done, and what can be done, toward increasing production of petroleum by decreasing the amount of water, that it is necessary to raise to the surface, in some fields.

An example of such remedial operations is given this week in the notice of intention of Union Oil company to deepen well No. 5, Squires, in the old Santa Maria field. The proposed deepening operations will take this well into the Third Oil Zone, of the Santa Maria field, and are in line with similar operations carried out in a number of wells, during the past three years, whereby not only a clean and profitable production has been obtained, but large quantities of water have been eliminated.

The total figures for the quantities of water being produced in various fields of the state, as given in the recently issued Second Annual Report of the State Oil and Gas Supervisor, are worthy of careful consideration by all those who are interested in increasing the production of oil and reducing the cost.

The report shows, for example, that the production of Los Angeles and Orange counties during June, 1917, was 1,884,030 barrels of oil and 321,840 barrels of water. During the same month the fields in Ventura county produced 81,840 barrels of oil and 31,620 barrels of water. In Santa Barbara county the fields produced 477,408 barrels of oil and 207,135 barrels of water. The Coal-tina field, in the same month, produced 1,282,002 barrels of oil and 313,135 barrels of water. Complete production figures for Kern county were not available at the time of the report but the

OLD AGE STARTS WITH YOUR KIDNEYS

Science says that old age begins with weakened kidneys and digestive organs. This being true, it is easy to believe that by keeping the kidneys and digestive organs cleaned and in proper working order old age can be delayed and the prolonged far beyond that enjoyed by the average person.

For over 200 years GOLD MEDAL Hazelton Oil has been relieving the weakness and disability due to advancing years. It is a standard old-time home remedy and needs no introducing. GOLD MEDAL Hazelton Oil is included in odorless, tasteless capsules containing about a drop each. Take them as you would a pill with a small swallow of water. The oil figures given for other fields show 57,135 barrels of water, an average of 21 per cent, produced with 2,237,570 barrels of oil.

In addition to the 11 new wells, and 8 deepening and redrilling jobs reported, there were 21 wells reported ready for test of water shut-off and 8 abandonment jobs.

MOLYBDENUM ASSAY HAS HIGH VALUES

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Oct. 2.—George Nicholson of the Pozo district arrived in town yesterday bringing samples from his recently-discovered mines of molybdenum. The assays of the ore show it to be worth from $1600 to $2000 per ton, and the vein he is working is said to be a very large one. This is the first discovery of molybdenum in this part of the state, as the metal is a very rare one, and is far superior to either chrome or manganese for hardening steel.

Mr. Nicholson has been prospecting in the Pozo section for some time, and recently uncovered the vein of molybdenum, and immediately set men to work digging a tunnel. The tunnel is now over a hundred feet in length, and the quality of the ore is improving the further in it goes.

UNION PLANS TO ISSUE DIVIDEND

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—It is rumored on what appears to be good authority that the Union Oil Company at its meeting next week will issue a special dividend payable in Liberty bonds, in addition to the usual extra dividend and the regular dividend in cash. The company could do this without any serious inconvenience, as its business has been increasingly profitable, and in addition the company now has on hand about $1,000,000 of Liberty bonds, which it bought during the several campaigns. In other words, it has quite enough bonds on hand to declare, say 2 1/2 per cent in Liberty bonds, as a special dividend, if the management should elect to do so.

High School Activities

As an added attraction to the Fresno high school mass meeting this morning in the auditorium on behalf of the fourth Liberty Loan, will be the showing of several courtesies which were sent from the front by Rand McCabe, a former high school boy. These will include a German helmet, and a handkerchief from a silk parachute, that McCabe had a French woman make up. Corporal James Bonar, who was gassed at Chateau Thierry, will address the assembly, and David Swing Hicker, publicity director of the Liberty loan will urge the students in their subscriptions during the drive.

Lawrence Young, chairman of the committee of arrangements for the meeting will preside.

Among the activities of the first few weeks of school are the nomination and election of new members to fill the offices in the various organizations. The dramatic club officers elected yesterday were as follows: president, Berg Lion; vice-president, Lawrence Hall; secretary, Birdie

Dr. Willson will prepare at once for his departure, and will probably be assigned to some place on the French frontier within a few months.

WAS SHIP COMMANDEERING IN GOVERNMENT'S INTEREST?

Doheny Returns to Charges Made Against U. S. Shipping Board as to Seizure of Vessels

(Special to the Republican.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 29.—Edward L. Doheny, the multimillionaire oil magnate of Los Angeles, who created a sensation last spring by appearing before the Senate committee and charging that he had been mulcted out of a very large sum of money, running into the millions, by certain shipbuilders, with the sanction of the United States Shipping Board, appeared before the committee again last week to expatiate upon that testimony.

Doheny had charged that after the government commandeered all ships in course of construction at the outbreak of the war the Shipping Board had told him his ships would be completed and delivered to him if he would pay the shipbuilding company a large bonus above the original contract price, plus an allowance for increased expense. Doheny said that rather than lose the ships he had paid the increase, but he protested that it was an outrage and made the assertion that one of the officials of the Shipping Board was head of a company that was the principal stockholder in one of the shipbuilding corporations that had profited largely by the generous war prices fixed by the Shipping Board. As a result of his startling assertions, the original inquiry of the Senate Commerce Committee promised to develop into an investigation to determine whether there was any possibility of collusion between certain officials of the Shipping Board and the shipbuilding companies involved. The inquiry was called away suddenly, and the incident was hushed for many months. This was Doheny's first appearance before the committee since he made the first charges.

Charles Pies, vice president of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, gave a general explanation of the position of the Shipping Board.

"We wanted the shipbuilders to speed up," he said, "by having the men work overtime and by putting on double shifts and working nights, so as to improve their output. We had practically to disregard the contract price, because the contract price was not a proper basis under the new conditions. What we had to do was to sacrifice everything to speed up."

Senator Nelson was very insistent in his comment that the New York Shipbuilding Company, which held the original contracts to build Doheny's ships, had accepted them "with its eyes open," but Pies contended that the Emergency Fleet Corporation was anxious to have that shipyard build transports for the government, and so it decided to offer every incentive possible.

"Did you not go to work and have that shipyard build all those other ships that they had contracted to build for private owners?" asked Senator Nelson.

"Yes," was Pies' reply; "the first ten, but not all they had under contract at that time."

Doheny, however, when he took the stand, flatly denied that the shipbuilding companies had speeded up.

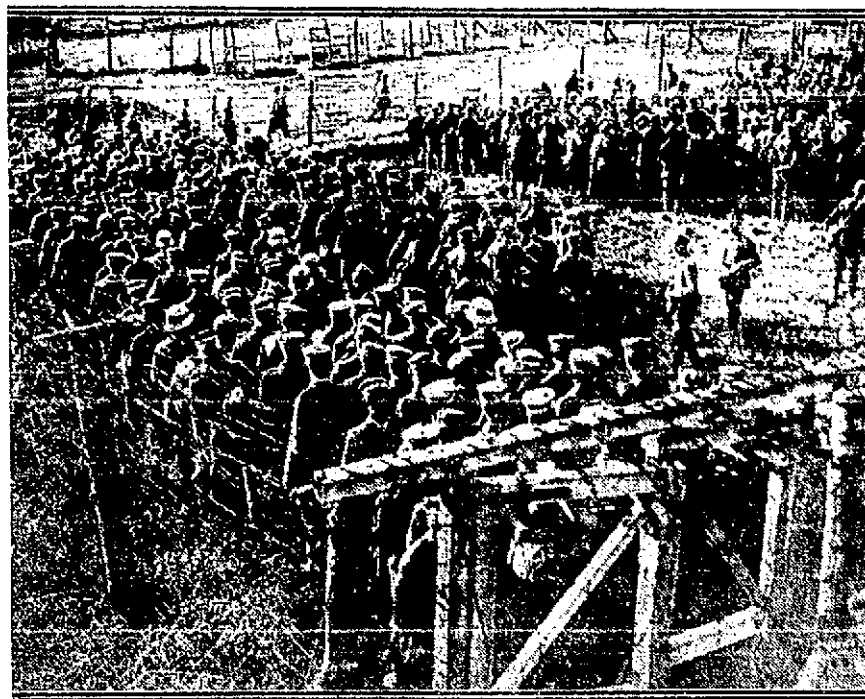

"They did not speed up," said Doheny. "Because the ship is not yet finished; and therefore speeding up cannot be one of the reasons for the extra cost."

Senator Nelson inquired when the ship was to be completed under the original contract.

"Either in December of last year or January of this," said Doheny.

After a lengthy technical justification of the policy adopted by the Emergency Fleet Corporation in regard to the completion of commandeered ships for private owners, by Mr. Pies, the committee was subjected to a slight sensation when Doheny announced that the Shipping Board is now preparing to take his completed ships from him, notwithstanding the fact that he had paid the big advance in price which the Fleet Corporation had imposed.

OMAHA, Neb. Oct. 2.—Mayor Smith is about to find out how much influence a command of the mayor has upon the women of the city.

The mayor is preparing a proclamation, asking all women, except those working, to stay at home all day Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week in order that Liberty bond canvassers may find them when they call.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 2.—America's fourth Liberty loan campaign has been endorsed by most of the Chinese chambers of commerce and it is being promoted by the most extensive advertising campaign in the history of China. In Shanghai the subscriptions at the end of the second day amounted to $250,000. Many prominent Chinese newspapers devote their leading editorials to the opening of the loan drive.

WHEAT MEN PLAN TO FIGHT SMUT

County Meeting Forwards
Campaign for 50,000
Acre Planting

The Fresno county wheat production meeting at the city hall yesterday proved successful beyond expectations. Nearly seventy-five practical growers attended, and heard the demonstration talks of the United States wheat experts, the Council of Defense and others. Many farmers spoke, and it was made certain that Fresno county will plant its full quota of wheat this fall.

M. J. Stevens of the Department of Agriculture and the University of California, explained the use of the bluestone lime anti-smut wash. He also told of the use of formaldehyde. Demonstrations will be given daily at the county exhibit building at the district fair.

Geo. R. McLeod of the Sperry Flour Company told of the production of Early Harvest variety of hard wheat here, and warned the growers that whatever variety they planted, seed "true to type" would produce as percent more grain. Also he had found in fields not apparently affected, that smut had attacked nearly half the heads, and dwarfed or ruined them altogether.

Albert Linsley of the emergency food production division of the Council of Defense urged the farmers as a patriotic duty to produce as much wheat as possible. Frank A. Homan, district chairman, also spoke. Farm Advisor Smith gave results of the wheat campaign.

T. Teisman of the canal company urged pre-planting irrigation where possible. S. L. Heisinger, Mr. Whitehead and other growers spoke.

ORDERS HERE ON SIBERIAN MAIL

Such mail may not exceed seven pounds in weight.

The address on mail intended for members of the expeditionary forces in Siberia should include in connection with the addressee's name and designation of the unit or organization to which he belongs the words, "American Expeditionary Forces in Siberia."

The eight-zone rate of 12 cents for each pound one fraction above is chargeable on parcels of fourth-class or domestic parcel-post matter subject to pound rates sent to and from the A. E. F. in Siberia.

Mail for civilians and soldiers, sailors and marines connected with the American Expeditionary forces in Siberia will be sent exclusively to the San Francisco post office for assorting there and dispatch in mails for Vladivostok.

NATIONAL LEAGUE TO END OFFICIAL CAREER ON DEC. 10

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Major league baseball, under the terms of the National League agreement, will be officially terminated at the annual meeting of the association to be held in this city on December 10. At the gathering the senior organization will formally wind up the business affairs of the season just closed and enter upon a hiatus which will remain undisturbed until such time as international affairs appear to warrant a revival of the professional end of the national game.

This, at least, is the intention of the managers of the present time, and nothing short of a most sensational change in the war status within the next two months will cause any shift in the plans of the league. It requires a long period of preparation and much detail work prior to the opening of each pennant race, and it is recognized that in the present unsettled state of baseball affairs it would be impossible to renew the operation of the circuit without ample time in which to formulate arrangements. A declaration of peace coming late next spring would prove of little value to the big league clubs, according to the opinion of prominent managers.

It has been pointed out that the players of the circuit are not in a position to make definite statements of intention, but will leave the affairs of the organization in such a state that business can be resumed at the proper moment with as slight a jar as possible. The officers of the league will be continued and Secretary Heyler will, in all probability, be re-elected to his present position with full authority to act for the league in all matters which have heretofore been in the hands of the president as well as the other executive officers of the league.

Baseball as played indoors during the winter months in the United States is

COLLISION IS ONLY FEATURE OF PACE

After scoring so many times the crowd thought never was going to be a horse race. F. Townsend, driver of J. C. L., finally collided with the sulky of C. W. Short, behind Silver Tips, and both were forced out of the first heat of the 21st race at the fair grounds yesterday afternoon.

A scraggy track made fast time impossible. Roma took the first two heats and J. C. L. won the final heat. Results: Roma De (Malcolm)..... 1 1 2 Harry Mac (Leggett)..... 2 3 3 Silver Tips (Short)..... 3 4 4 Time: 2:15 1/2, 2:12, 2:12.

Proving remarkably popular among the Allied soldiers in France, it is played, of course, out of doors, but the large indoor ball is used and the rules of indoor baseball adhered to. It seems to be an easier game as well for the British soldiers to learn than the more scientific and technical outdoor baseball. It is quickly learned, and its caliber is not too high to admit an amateur. The English soldiers find that any good cricket player possesses sufficient qualifications to feel at home in a few innings.

On athletic fields and aerodromes all over France, one may see scores of British, Canadian, Australian and American officers and men, playing indoor baseball with a vim and eagerness never displayed at cricket.

"Indoor baseball knocks cricket into a cocked hat," declared the star cricketer of one of the Guards Regiments the other day. Probably the quicker action, the wider inclusiveness of the game, and the laughs it arouses among the players and spectators—to say nothing of the rooming, appeal more to the soldier in France than the more serious and staid game of cricket, and the equipment is simpler and cheaper.

THE MEN OF FORTY-FIVE.

Why are not men 45 years of age equal to the emergencies of the war? We read that John Burns, of Gettysburg, was 71 when he performed an act of bravery that was embelished in verse. And there was the famous Thirty-seventh regiment of Iowa, that served during the civil war, every man more than 45 years old.—Los Angeles Times.

TRAMP ATHLETES ARE NOT WANTED ON COAST

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—Amateur athletes of the Pacific coast are taking more than a superficial interest in the resolution recently passed by the Pacific Athletic Association of Amateur Athletes Union that foreign athletes be barred from competing for American championships.

The resolution was tabled by Robert Dohi, president of the local association, and it is his intention to take the matter up with the national body at its next meeting.

Just what success it will meet with remains to be seen. There are many persons who are interested in amateur athletics who are not at all in sympathy with the idea. For many years the athletes of any country have been welcome to participate in any championship events in another country. Many claim that this has been an impetus to sport and that the friendly rivalry has been an incentive to better performances. Americans hold many foreign records, and a number of American records are held by athletes abroad.

John Elliott, who has been a prominent figure in athletics on the Pacific coast for a great many years, and who is a past president of the Pacific Association, is one of those who believe that sport will be the loser by rejecting foreign entries. He goes further and advocates an athletic tournament every five years for the particular purpose of inviting foreign competition, and to encourage their presence he advocates that part of their expenses be defrayed by the national body.

"I am opposed to the 'tramp athletes,'" said Elliott. "I don't think any Tom, Dick or Harry should be allowed to come here and take away our titles. I am not opposed to foreigners competing in the United States championships, provided the laws of the A. A. U. are strictly followed. They can compete, and provided such athlete or athletes are sent to this country with the proper credentials of their own country."

"I hope that when conditions permit it after the war the A. A. U. will, about every five years, endeavor to arrange an international meet or series of meets in this country and invite all foreign countries to send their best athletes. Some of the expense of such a meet I would suggest be defrayed by the A. A. U. to get foreign men here. Such a meet would be a big attraction, and then after these series are held, let the United States championships be contested and invite these visiting athletes to compete in the events for our titles. I believe in being big and broad in this, and such a series of meets would be a great thing for the track game of the country."

"It is the so-called 'tramp athlete' that I am opposed to. I would not give him the slightest encouragement, nor would I leave any door open in any respect. A. A. U. legislation which would allow these chaps to break in. But when it comes to organized tours, with the backing of the governing bodies of foreign countries, approved and desired by the governing body of our own country, then I say, let them in."

The resolution of the Pacific Athletic Association will be forwarded on to New York in plenty of time for the legislation committee to report on and in November it will be voted on for new legislation.

R. L. ("Snowy") Baker, the well known athlete of Australia, who has taken part in many amateur championships in various countries in the past, and who at present is visiting California, took the broad ground that international competition aided in mutual understanding between nations and further cemented their friendship. He considered it would be unfortunate to put an end to what always has been an international courtesy in the past.

The stand taken by those favoring the measure is that as a "national" championship, the title becomes a misnomer when foreigners are admitted to competition. It then becoming an "international" event, and, as the name implies, it should be restricted to American competition.

THE BIG APPLE PIE.

When a fellow has fought
In the trenches all day,
And gets back to the huts
Of the Y. M. C. A.,
The first thing that catches
His war-weary eye
Is a tasteful brown segment
Of fresh apple pie.

He forgets all the racket,
The shell holes and mud,
The crumpled up figures
Bespattered with blood,
The death chime abroad
On the earth, in the sky,
When he munches a slice
From a thick apple pie.

He dreams while he eats
Of the orchard at home,
Where the apple trees break
Into rosy foam,
And halfwin and plippin
And red northern spy
Grow ripe to be baked
Into good apple pie.

The food of the gods
Must be honey or dew,
But the food of the sons
Of the Red, White and Blue
Who on Liberty's altar
Are ready to die,
Is a generous hunk
From a big apple pie.

—Minnie Irving in New York Sun.

"What a manly looking little fellow!" admiringly said the candidate, meeting four-year-old Bearcat. "He shore is, Podner!" admitted Mr. Gap Johnson, of Rumpus Ridge, Ark. "You just ort to hear him cuss when he takes his quinine."—Judge.

CITY STOPS WORK AND ENJOYS FAIR

Many Thrills Furnished in Opening Program of Rodeo

The city of Fresno closed shop yesterday and went to the fair. It was Fresno day. And those who went were not disappointed. A very attractive program had been prepared and it went off without a hitch both in the afternoon and the evening.

The opening of the rodeo, which had been postponed from Tuesday on account of rain, featured the afternoon program. There were fourteen rodeo events and in each, the crowd that filled the grandstand, got thrills that kept interest at a high pitch until the last event was staged. The final event was the wild mule race. The most interesting part of this was the preparation. There were some wild mules there and enough of them to keep something doing every minute until the starter gave the signal. It took more than half an hour to get the animals in line. First one and then another would rear and plunge and break away. In the race itself, E. Popovich was injured when his mule plunged headlong into a wire fence and then roled on top of him. He was able to care for himself, however, after a few minutes.

Coyote, the unruly horse, was there and he made good his reputation for his would-be rider was scarcely seated before the bay had leaped him on the track. Skeeter Bill Robinson has this horse as one of his attractions.

Soldiers from the remount station at Camp Kearny lent a picturesque appearance to the general scene and they took part in several of the contests. It didn't take long to find out who were the favorites with the crowd when these khaki-clad lads appeared. The first of the community sings was held yesterday afternoon and another was held last night. The entire audience took part, led by a choir of several hundred, under the direction of Charles E. Rykert.

A livestock parade will be one of the features of the program this afternoon.

MINNEAPOLIS, N. Y., Oct. 2.—Major Whitten J. East, commander of the Black Eagle, an army training ground for aviators at Garden City, was instantly killed today when his automobile overturned while he was on his way to the field.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 2.—The German emperor has conferred the Order of the Black Eagle on Count Von Hertling, who recently resigned from the office of imperial chancellor.

Fair Admission Is Fifty Cents, Same as in Past

The general admission to the Fresno district fair is 50 cents. This sum will admit anyone to the grounds. It is the same as in all previous years.

Someone started a rumor yesterday that the admission price had been raised. The telephone wires into the fair grounds were kept hot by people making inquiries. And to all was given the answer that the admission price was the same as in other years.

Rocked in the arms of Liberty. Her flaming torch she gave to you To carry down the centuries. To light men's souls and hold them true.

A ruthless foe would quench your torch. And murder innocence and right; Forward, true sons of Liberty. And with your blood defend heaven's light.

There's nothing better than to die In service to your country's God, Your country's homes and liberty, Your country's flag and sacred soil.

Courageous sons of Liberty, Strike to defend dear Freedom's laws, And all your sacrificial deeds Will glorify your country's cause.

Columbia hails her hero sons, And warms out her crown to place 'O'er keep and bless your souls away. Great soldiers of a mighty race. —Margaret Bradshaw in Portland Oregonian.

FIREWORKS SHOW MAKES GREAT HIT

Most Spectacular Display Ever Seen in City of Fresno

Those who went to the Fresno district fair grounds last night witnessed the most spectacular fireworks display ever seen in the city of Fresno, and the patriotic nature of the display only added to the enthusiastic appreciation expressed by the large crowd in attendance.

There are two big features on the program and these will be repeated nightly. The first is an "Over the Top" scene. The scene was introduced by the firing of bombs and grenades that quickly grew into a great roar. Amid the roar of exploding powder, a smoke screen was suddenly thrown up, hiding everything behind it. As the screen lifted, more than a hundred Home Guardmen were seen charging over the top of a trench. Another roar from the thousands of throats of those who saw this great display greeted the guardmen as they came over. "The Flaming of Zerkuska Mole" was the other feature. In this, two battleships, outlined in fireworks, were seen in action and then there was mounted the sinking of the cruiser in front of the mole. The scene was very realistic and brought another big thunder of applause. Smaller set pieces were set off by the scene and each made a hit.

WHOLE SCHEME OF GERMAN DEFENSE BROKEN?

Disintegration of Hindenburg Line Near St. Quentin Accomplished

Having Great Difficulty in Extricating Troops

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—The German grip on northern France and Belgium has been definitely broken. Even the most cautious military observers in Washington agreed tonight that the Hindenburg line was disintegrating and army officers centered their whole attention on the efforts of the German leaders to extricate their armies without a crushing disaster.

Outflanked in Belgium and in the Champagne, the great German zone of defensive works known as the Hindenburg defense already was becoming untenable when Field Marshal Haig's men smashed through it today just north of St. Quentin. The immediate investment of the city by French troops and the swift widening of the breach northward, coupled with the continued rapid progress of French, British and British forces in Belgium, it is thought here, may possibly upset the whole German scheme of retirement which had begun on the Rhine front.

May Be a Rout

British penetration of the line, it was said, may furnish Marshal Foch with a means to embarrass the German retreat, always with the possibility of precipitating a veritable rout. Ringed by a wall of victorious armies over the whole front from the North Sea to Verdun, the situation of the Germans is undoubtedly grave. The drive in Belgium is menacing vital communications on one side, while American and French troops in the Champagne are surging forward toward equally vital supply lines on the other. The last line is assuming the shape of a vast trap threatening to lay out to engulf the German armies.

The German leaders have seen their danger. Official reports to the state department today indicated that evacuation of the submarine bases on the Belgian coast was imminent. There also is conclusive evidence that the evacuation of the lines before Rheims is well under way. The question uppermost in the minds of army officers here is whether the German high command has acted in time.

Lost 2,000 Men

Announcement from Paris that 2,000 prisoners were taken by the French yesterday in operations between the Vesle and the Aisne rivers is significant of the difficulty of getting troops back safely out of an abandoned fighting line. There has been no hint of a French attack on a large scale on this front and the Berlin statements have characterized the movement as a withdrawal. Only a narrow front was involved, yet 2,000 men, left as rear guards, were captured.

To withdraw the whole 250-mile front where the Allies and American forces are now moving forward day after day will be a stupendous task. With constantly increasing superiority of numbers and gun power resting with Marshal Foch, observers here believe the retreat will be difficult beyond words.

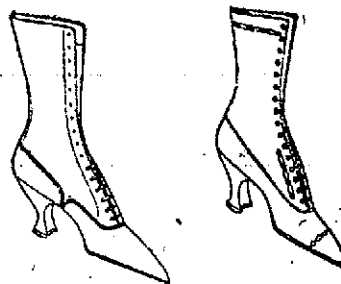

PARIS, Oct. 2.—Forty Greek prisoners who have been held in eastern Macedonia by the Bulgarians have arrived at Saloniki, according to a Havas dispatch. Punishment and torture had decimated the ranks of the prisoners.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 2.—Extensive buying continued on the stock exchange here today. All foreign currency rates again moved up rapidly. The pound sterling made a record jump for one day. The dollar advanced from 2.12 to 2.20.

REPRISALS FOR BURNING CITIES

Points in Germany May Be Marked Out by Allies

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—An ultimatum to Germany regarding the ruthless destruction of cities and private property in Northern France and Belgium is being urged on the Allies and the United States and is under consideration.

The burning of Cambrai and St. Quentin and the devastation of one of the most populous regions as the Germans retreat, has aroused great indignation and it was said in diplomatic circles today that Germany would be warned solemnly that if she allowed the work of destruction to continue, severe reprisals will follow.

It is suggested that the cities of the Rhine should be marked for destruction and the Berlin government told that for every French and Belgian city ruined without military reason, a city equally important and valuable sentimentally and materially will be laid waste.

An official dispatch from France quotes the Petit Parisien as follows:

"Cambrai is burning. It is the most crime accomplished by those great destroyers of life. Cambrai, the historical city with all her memories of the past; Cambrai, the modern town with its industries, is falling to pieces; among a red and black whirlwind of sparks and flames, Cambrai is at the fire. The Germans have left, but throw as they went, their incendiary torches on the valuable remembrances of ancient France. Our Allies who had taken such precautions to save the town contemplate, horror-stricken, the German's impious work."

Grand Military Ball given by the Home Guards at the Auditorium Saturday night, Oct. 5. Beginning of the season's dances.

"This Suits Me!"

It's the lad's idea of pie as it should be—he has "come into his own" now that mother uses Kream Krisp for shortening her pie crusts.

Mother only winks at her indulgence. Kream Krisp gives her the chance to "fill him up," for though she uses less Kream Krisp she can make more pie crust. And as the rich, flaky Kream Krisp pie crust is easily digested mother knows no digestive ill can follow the youngster's "fill."

Kream Krisp is every ounce pure shortening. And there's no scarcity of Kream Krisp, for it is a pure product of selected peanuts—and peanuts are plentiful.

Kream Krisp can be used again and again for frying for it has no flavor of its own and doesn't absorb any from food fried in it.

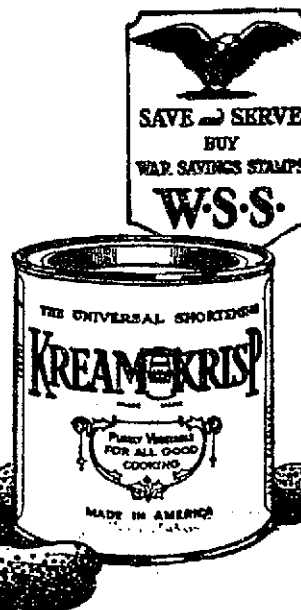

In shortening when you use Kream Krisp in place of butter or lard you decrease the quantity of shortening needed and increase the quality of your cooking.

You prove the economy of Kream Krisp in every use you make of it. Try it today.

INCREASED WATER
AIDS ORCHARDISTS

SUCCESS, Oct. 2.—Orchardists feel greatly encouraged over the increasing amount of water in the South Tule ditch. Several are irrigating and it is thought that within a short time, there may be water enough for all. In some places, the ditch has been entirely dry for several months and considerable water will be taken up before irrigation is possible. The Pioneer Ditch now has at least 200 inches of water, and the river near the Success bridge which narrowed down to a tiny stream this summer has raised considerably. Some crops will be saved and cloudy weather still prevails.

The wind storm of last week was the most severe that has visited this vicinity for years. In Clifford's yard, pepper trees and apple trees were injured and the small Howard house was blown off its underpinnings. Several large forest trees were blown over and two near the river road were struck by lightning.

Miss Irene Kesse is attending the Orange school this year, and boarding with Mrs. Hodges.

Everett Duncan, who was down from Rogers Camp Saturday, on business, returned Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. L. C. Kesse is visiting relatives in this vicinity.

D. Pratt and family write of their safe arrival in Willowbrook, where they own property and expect to make their future home.

Sherman Crawford and a party of friends are preparing for a hunting trip to the mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Larson and Ray and Everett Duncan attended the dance in Porterville Saturday evening. Raymond Giddings and son passed through here Tuesday morning on their way to the reservation.

E. L. White and Mr. Stetson of Porterville passed through this district yesterday with pack animals, on their return from the mountains.

DAMAGE IS DONE
AT SPRINGVILLE

SPRINGVILLE, Oct. 2.—Considerable damage was done by the wind storm last Thursday evening. Two tool houses were blown down along the lower end of the Mr. Whitely ditch, and one along the upper end. In several places trees were blown down across the ditch and telephone connections were severed. The rain washed out the ditch bank close to the cement in various spots and an extra crew of workmen was sent up to repair damages throughout the entire extent of the high line ditch. A well-known landmark was destroyed last Thursday night when the old teamster's supply barn on the Miller road was blown down. This building, which was erected about thirty years ago, and has long been known as the old Donahue barn, served many useful purposes in early days to the mountain traveler. Near it is a blacksmith shop, also a relic of pioneer days, which withstood the storm. Several large cottonwood trees were blown down during the severe storm and in many orchards heavy limbs have been torn from the trees. Several lost their entire crop of late Bartlett pears, and other fruit suffered greatly from the wind and rain. Mr. Childers has lost some walnut and almond trees as a result of the sudden storm. Monday brought frequent showers, the Tule river is up several inches and more water is being used for irrigation.

Harry Sikes took a truckload of wood to Porterville yesterday, returning in the afternoon with a load of mill feed.

Fred Proscott of Mill is hauling wood to Porterville and Mr. Millard and Earl Kegan are loading a car of wood for shipment.

Prof. Kennedy, who spent a summer vacation in the north, has returned to his studio and with his famous violin, is again delighting the dancers with his inimitable playing.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Frost have returned from a visit with relatives in Breter.

George Cole and Marion Ward attended the dance in Porterville Saturday evening.

WOODLAKE, Oct. 2.—The strip of new county highway between Woodlake square and Steward's corner leading to what is known as the Snake spring gap, Yettam, Dinuba and Fresno, has been cleared for permanent traffic giving an up-to-date course especially for the motorists. The stretch covers a distance of five miles and in the construction of the new thoroughfare, it has abolished a portion of road that has for many years given no end of dissatisfaction to the public. This concludes highway building in this part of the county until after the war according to Supervisor J. H. Newman who was a Woodlake visitor today.

The home of C. Romer has been gladdened by the recent arrival of a baby girl.

RAINS RAISE LAKE
WOODLAKE, Oct. 2.—The recent showers in the valley supported by numerous heavy rains reported as falling in the high mountain districts have caused the lake to swell several feet the past few days. This is met with no end of favorable comment, inasmuch as the lake had lowered to such an extent as to cause the anglers in this part of the world to quit their sport. Last fall the Fish and Game Commission planted 5,000 Sacramento perch in this body of water, and it was feared that because of water shortage many of the fish might die. Investigation shows that now there is little or no opportunity for a fatality of the nature, and that when spring arrives there will be plenty of good fishing for the mentioned species as well as the usual excellent bass catching.

PATTERSON, Oct. 2.—Archbishop Edward J. Hanna and his secretary, Father Cantwell of San Francisco and several other visiting priests were here last Sunday and the local Catholic church had a big day. The archbishop's address was along patriotic lines and was impressively delivered. Two classes were confirmed, adult and young folks. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers, the altar being in distinctive colors. The local parish now includes 140 families consisting of 400 members of the chapel.

The Presbyterian Women's Missionary society held its first meeting after the summer recess at the home of Mrs. Mary Watson last Wednesday.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Mary Watson.

At the Methodist church Sunday the Rev. T. E. Weller preached his farewell sermon in the evening and the Presbyterians all attended the services in a body. The Rev. LEARN OF STOLEN
CAR AFTER POLICE
CAPTURE THE THIEF

MERCED, Oct. 2.—To have an automobile stolen from his private garage, taken away 123 miles, discovered by the police authorities, and the thief caught in a distant part of the state, and then to be notified of all these occurrences before having missed the car was the experience of A. E. Marbach of Merced Falls. The search work was done by the police officers in the offices of Sheriff T. A. Mack of this county and the Kern county sheriff's office.

Marbach's car was stolen from his garage at Merced Falls on Monday night by two men, named Baker and White. Baker, a parolee convict from San Quentin, with two more years to serve, and a former brakeman of the Yosemite Valley railroad, was caught in Bakersfield, and brought to Merced today by Deputy Sheriff Robert Cochran. White formerly an employee in the mess kitchen of the Yosemite Lumber company at Merced Falls, is still at large. The automobile was found hidden in brush on a river near Bakersfield, and Marbach left for Bakersfield last night to bring the machine back.

Suspicious conduct by Baker in Bakersfield and the discovery of the abandoned car there led to communication between the authorities there and the local officers, with the result of Baker's arrest and return, and the car's recovery.

DELANO, Oct. 2.—Harry W. Young was badly burned on Sunday afternoon while trying to extinguish a fire in the power house. No serious damage resulted, although Mr. and Mrs. E. Dionne, owners of the cafe were greatly frightened when the flash burst out from the fire-box of the range which luckily was open. The rain fell heavily for a period of an hour, but no damage to the crops has been reported.

GIVES DECISION IN WATER RIGHT SUIT

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 2.—According to the ruling of Judge Kaye Mrs. Mary Monroe, pioneer resident of Cameron and widow of the late Donald Monroe, must again defend her water rights against the Southern Pacific company. Mrs. Monroe, in expensive litigation, costing her more than $2500, won a decision before Judge Farmer against the corporation and so established her right to the water needed to irrigate her little mountain farm. The trial took place last May, and occupied more than a month. Geological experts were summoned and Judge Farmer went personally to inspect the properties involved.

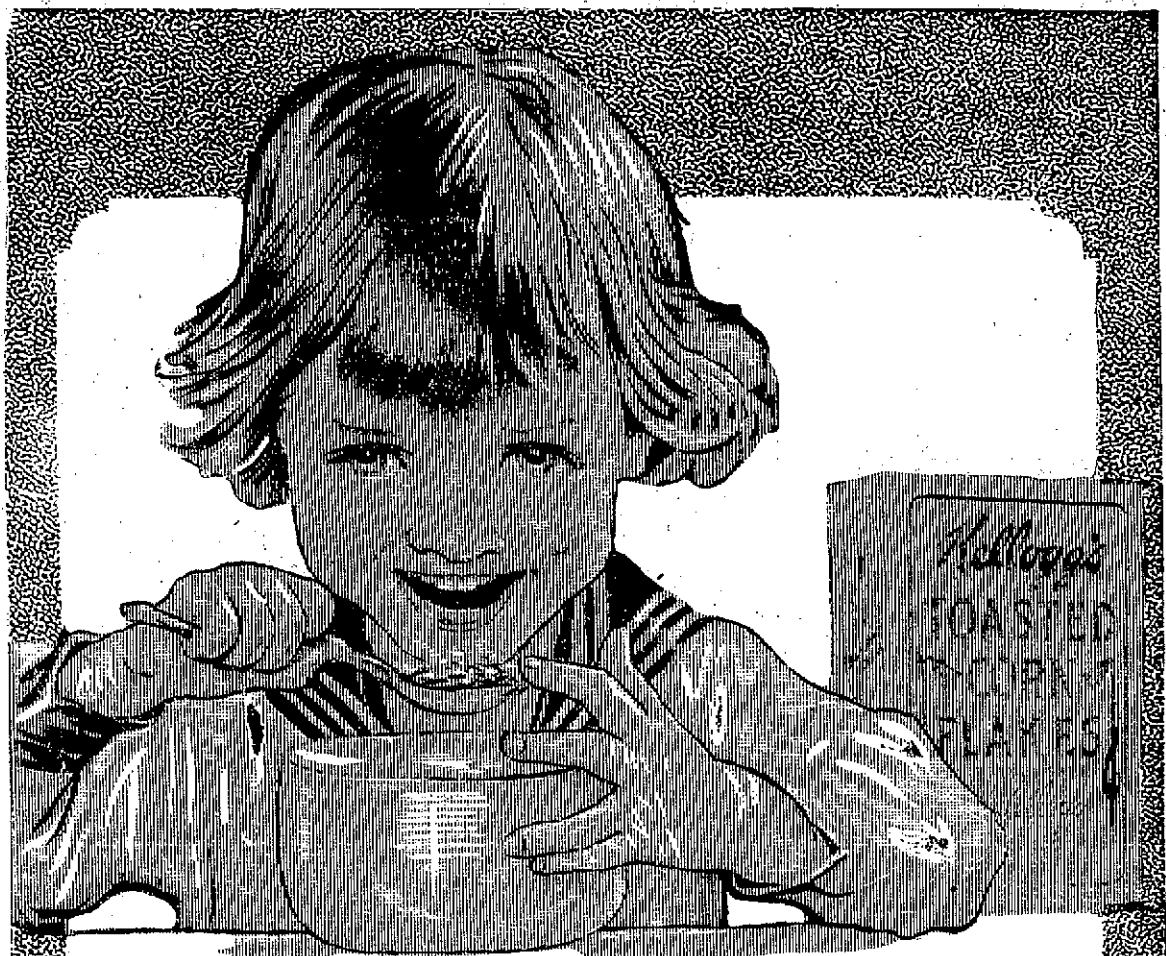

The Monroes used the waters of certain springs for irrigation. In 1917 the railroad sunk wells near by, piping the water thus obtained, in part, to Mojave. Mrs. Monroe's wells dried up, and she began suit to restrain the corporation from diverting the water. She won the suit and received a thousand dollar damages. Judge Kaye's ruling gives the Southern Pacific a new trial of the case.

E. J. Simmons represented Mrs. Monroe, and he expresses the fear that his client may not be financially able to further defend her water title, such defense meaning the employment of costly experts whose fees run as high as $50 a day.

The Monroe home is one of the oldest in the mountains of Kern county.

PLAN TO WRITE IN NAME OF ASSESSOR

MERCED, Oct. 2.—That the election of a county assessor for Merced at the November election will have to be done by the "writing-in" method is the opinion of Acting District Attorney Edward Bickmore and County Clerk P. J. Thornton expressed today in discussing the situation with regard to that office created by the death Monday night of A. G. Clough, who was incumbent assessor and the unopposed nominee for the office at the primary election of August.

Petitions were filed with the county clerk last night for Mrs. A. G. Clough, widow of the late official, and E. L. Moor, seeking the independent nomination, but these are without effect because of the primary election law which requires that such petitions must be signed by electors who did not vote at the primary election. In case there was a candidate nominated for the office at the primary election, the fact that Clough, the nominated candidate, subsequently died does not alter the application of the law, in the opinion of the officials.

Clough had no opposition at the primary election, and although the names of Fred Robinson and W. E. Burch were written on the ballot, Robinson receiving two "written in" votes, and Burch receiving one, the names of these men do not qualify for appearance on the ballot. In order for a "written in" candidate to qualify for the general election ballot, the number of "written in" votes received at the primary must equal the number of county candidates, which, in this county, was twenty-eight.

No appointment was made today by the supervisors to fill the unexpired term of Clough.

RAINS WILL HELP SOUTHERN VALLEY

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 1.—While some small damage has been done to baled hay in the field, and bean men will be obliged to watch their crops for a few days, the rain in general has been a benefit to this immediate portion of the valley. It has stimulated the orange groves and saved one late irrigation, and cattlemen believe it will result in a rapid growth of early feed.

CURTIN TO GIVE TALK IN MADERA

MADERA, Oct. 2.—Senator J. B. Curtin of Sonoma, Democratic candidate for state senator from the twelfth district, will be in Madera Tuesday evening, October 3, when he will give an address on political issues. The meeting will be in the Lincoln school auditorium.

VISALIA, Oct. 2.—Tulare county has sent thirteen physicians to the colors with the medical corps, of which Exeter has three, Porterville, Tulare, Dinuba and Lemon have two each, and Visalia and Lindsay one each. At least four others are contemplating early calls and still two others would like to enlist, but have been practically inducted into service as local draft board examiners and cannot secure a release save through Washington.

The physicians already in the service are: Doctors I. H. Betts, Visalia; W. C. Chilson, Roy N. Fuller, Tulare; Gordon Clapp, Lindsay; Morton W. Prater, Robert B. Montgomery, Lemon Cove; A. D. McLean, Premier Mts.; John C. Paine, Exeter; L. O. Seligman, C. A. Tillotson, Dinuba; G. T. Wilhelm and Harry J. Willey, Porterville.

WASHOUT SUSPENDS RAILWAY TRAFFIC

MERCED, Oct. 2.—Heavy rains, including a cloudburst Monday night between Bridgeburg and Clearinghouse washed down an avalanche of dirt from the mountain slopes in the Merced River Canyon, covering the tracks of the Yosemite Valley Railroad between Bridgeburg and Southforks, so that travel has been suspended for the past two days. Tomorrow the regular schedule will be resumed, but the damage has been corrected. Water in the Merced river is reported high as a consequence of the rain, and the falls in Yosemite also are big in volume.

PLAN DRIVE TO KILL SQUIRRELS

MODESTO, Oct. 2.—Stanislaus county will inaugurate a different kind of war drive from those which now occupy its residents, when a campaign against squirrels will be made November 1 and 2. A. L. Rutherford, county horticultural commissioner, announced the drive as a conservation measure in protecting foodstuffs, since the rodents destroy thousands of dollars worth each winter. Every land owner who does not place poison during the two days will be liable to prosecution by law, and the committee will place poison for him. The Stanislaus Council of Defense will call all deputy sheriffs to act as inspectors for the two days.

AWARDS FIRE DAMAGES. VISALIA, Oct. 2.—Because he failed to control a stubble fire he set on his own place south of Seville to burn off stubble, K. Hara, a Japanese rancher, will have to pay $288.43 damages to George Tashjian, who owns an adjoining ranch, by reason of the fact that the fire ran through the fence, destroying property. Superior Judge J. A. Allen has handed down an opinion to this effect calling for a judgment.

SHIP OUT DRIED FRUIT. TULARE, Oct. 2.—The Peach Growers' Association shipped a car of dried fruit from this city today, also a car of peach pits. The whole shipment went to Fresno. The pits are destined for the government and will be used in masks for the army.

ARRANGE PLANS TO MARKET LIVESTOCK

VISALIA, Oct. 2.—Directors of the newly formed California Farm Bureau Marketing Association, San Joaquin valley division, including Fresno, Tulare, Kings, Kern and Madera counties, meeting in Visalia, have named D. H. Bitner, at present manager for the Kern county farm bureau marketing association, general manager and superintendent to assume his duties at once with Visalia as the central place of business. This inaugurates, on a working basis, the plan of the hog and stock men, and farm bureau members generally of these counties, to create a central marketing organization through which, ultimately, it is planned to sell all farm products on a plan not unlike the raisin and peach companies. At present the association will market only hogs and expects to extend the plan to livestock generally shortly. The scope of the organization is admittedly one of the largest attempted in California, in that it contemplates, at once, trainload sales of hogs instead of small carloads, thus including Portland and Kansas City buyers to bid in at the first sale.

H. D. Hull of Wasco is president of the association, which is made up of farm bureau members in the various counties mentioned; while W. J. Fulpham, president of the Tulare County Cattlemen's Association, of Visalia, is vice president and the National Bank of Visalia, depository.

Plans for the pavilion in which auction sales of pure bred live stock will be held were adopted. Several members are going to visit pavilions in other towns within a few days and get ideas for the structure here. The site for the building has already been purchased, the tract being just south of this town within the city limits and embracing 32 lots. The Association plans to have its building completed in time to hold a sale in November 21. For this sale 120 head of pure bred stock have already been promised.

HANFORD IS GIVEN IMPROVED SERVICE

HANFORD, Oct. 2.—Through the solicitation of the Hanford Board of Trade the Railway Administration for the United States has arranged to set ahead the schedule of the southbound Santa Fe train, the first one through this city from Hanford, hereafter it will arrive here at 8:30 o'clock a. m. instead of 9:15.

The purpose of the appeal was to improve the mail service. Under the old schedule the mail from San Francisco, Fresno and other points reached Hanford too late for the first city delivery and also missed the rural routes. Postmaster Dewey, at the request of the Board of Trade, took the matter up with various sources and had no success until he wired Director General William McAdoo. A prompt reply was that it had been referred to the western division of the railway administration. Through Director Sproule and C. L. McFaul the request for an earlier train has been granted.

ARRAIGN MERCED MURDERER

Ballou stated he wanted no attorney, but the court insisted that the universal rule be followed, and appointed Terry W. Ward to represent him.

MANY WOMEN BUY BONDS. PORTERVILLE, Oct. 2.—One of the remarkable features of the sale of the fourth Liberty loan in Porterville to date is the large proportion of the bonds which have been bought by women subscribers. Of the first $200,000 in these bonds fully 50 per cent was bought by women property owners. It is believed the present ratio will be largely maintained and Porterville promises to make a unique record in this respect when the final figures are in.

TRACTOR PLOW

This plow can be operated right up to the roots of trees and vines, either throwing in or out, without damaging the orchard in the least—a feature that is important and one that has made John Deere Pony Tractor Plows meet with great success among fruit growers in California and other Pacific Coast states, where they are being used extensively.

Conditions often arise on the farm which make imperative the immediate purchase of some article necessary to do the work on time.

CONFERENCE HEARS TEMPERANCE TALKS

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 2.—The feature of the conference of the M. E. church for the southern district of the state was the address this evening of Dr. Harcourt W. Peck, former presiding elder of the district, who spoke on "Prohibition and Public Morals." In which he lambasted the liquor traffic and made a telling address to a large audience of ministers and others in attendance. He predicted that the nation would soon be bone dry, and enlarged on the blessings such an order of things would bring.

This afternoon Dr. John Oliver made his annual report as superintendent of the Fresno district. The report showed little building, totalling about $75,000, due to war retrenchment, and reported three deaths in the district. The report commended the array of candidates for the legislature, which are largely bone dry, and commended the work of the dry federation in its efforts to bring this about.

Dr. Charles Edward Locke, pastor of the Los Angeles first church, spoke on the topic of German cruelties during the war. He stated that people generally before the war had regarded Germany as a Christian nation, but had found it to be a barbarian one. The great problem, the speaker emphasized, would be to Christianize Germany after the war, and urged that Americans should not be too severe in their treatment of the people of that nation because of the acts committed while the two nations were at war.

Tomorrow will be the anniversary meeting of the Foreign Missionary Society. Bishop J. W. Warn, a returned missionary from China, will be the principal speaker.

PACKARD TWIN-SIX CARS, EQUIPPED WITH WESTINGHOUSE AIR SPRINGS

Phone 1961 Phone 106

WSS WSS WSS WSS

WHY good proof of the popularity of outdoor sleeping is seen in the number of sleeping porches, which are being added to old houses and incorporated in the plans of new houses. The house without some kind of an outdoor bedroom is coming to be the exception rather than the rule. Even block city houses which ordinarily would have no room for any kind of a sleeping porch in the front or at the side will show an improvised one over some back roof, often where the second floor extends farther back than the third. So you see it is not exactly a question of room, but a question of preference.

And why should the sleeping porch be so popular for folks who are sound and well? The reason is a simple one. Those who have reasoned it out feel that if doctors prescribe sleeping out in the fresh air for those with weak lungs, and if they get well, as so many of them do from this treatment, why shouldn't fresh-air sleeping be a preventive of illness for the person in possession of good health? And that is exactly what it is.

Ten years ago you could count as you walked along a street not more than two or three, perhaps not any, front bedroom windows open at night. Now it is the exceptional family which sleeps in a closed room. It proves how much value we have come to put on fresh air. You know that when because of storm you have to close your windows at night you will get up with a dull headache in the morning.

If you are a worker indoors during the day you can not get your quota of fresh air. You should then aim to get it at night. You may be fortunate enough to live in a room with enough windows so that you can get cross draughts enough to keep a constant supply of fresh air in the room. But most likely you are not so lucky. Then take to the bed in the open. It won't be long before you find sleeping indoors something to dread.

The usual suburban house has a protected porch where a swing is hung. This same swing will make an ideal bed by night if properly made up. All outdoor sleeping beds should be made in the "bag" way for winter sleeping. This "bag" arrangement is called the Klondike bed. The clothes should be tucked and folded first under a pad, with the top blanket under the mattress to make a bag into which the sleeper can slip from the top opening. A layer of newspapers under the mattress will help to conserve the heat from the body in very cold weather. The bed clothes should not be left out of doors all day, for they absorb so much cold that it is difficult to make them comfortable at bedtime. When sheets seem damp or too cold try ironing them with a moderately warm iron so that the bed will not be uncomfortably chilly. Where a regular sleeping porch is used the bed should be of light iron on castors and be rolled out at night with its occupant already in it.

Draughts should always be avoided. Shield the bed with screens from a direct wind, and try using two pillows placed like an inverted V to keep sharp winds from the face. There should be plenty of bedclothes, but light down quilts are preferable to heavy blankets and pads. A warm and light pad for the outdoor bed can be made from two cotton blankets and a filling of strips of crepe paper. A sleeping bag made from two blankets with three sides sewed together is a comfortable addition for very cold weather.

Clothing for sleeping out of doors should be roomy and warm as possible. Each one will find her own particular arrangement of sleeping clothes the most comfortable, but generally speaking, a pair of outing flannel pajamas, a pair of woolen stockings into which the pajama legs can be tucked, some sort of a head covering, and a warm jacket ought to be enough for the most severe weather. One of those helmets which are being lent for the soldiers makes an ideal head covering for keeping head and ears warm, or a woolen scarf can be wound around the head and pinned securely.

Now there are ways and means of sleeping out of doors where sleeping porches are an impossibility. You can build your window into a sleeping box. The easiest way to do this is to move the bed so that the head of the bed falls right at the window. Then with two sheets and a few push pins build a tent by crossing the sheets at the top of the frame, securing them there with the pins and along the sides of the frame. The ends hang over the bed and form a tent into which the sleeper after fresh air can creep, the sheets serving to conserve the air instead of having it spread through the room. A folding cot can have its head projected through the windows and protected with an awning or curtained frame. Various kinds of window tents in funnel shape can be made by the handy man to fit the window frame and extend inside over the head of the sleeper.

And why fresh air sleeping? To begin with, night air is always purer than day air in any locality, dust is laid and dew and frost have purified the air. Fresh air induces sound slumber, tones up the system generally and gives the body a chance to throw off the poisons of the day. It is the cheapest of tonics, free for all. Try it and you will never question the practicality of outdoor sleeping again.

GOOD IDEAS

READ about these two clever things that one girl did whose allowance for clothes was nothing what it should have been, which only goes to prove that pocketbooks don't always make smart clothes and that gray matter has a lot to do with it. She saw a hat she liked in a smart shop window. It was a tricorn with the most adorable trimming cockades on each of the three sides. But she couldn't afford it. However, she went straightway and bought a plain silk tricorn and then proceeded to copy those fetching little cockades. She painted a wooden button mould with some gilt paint, then covered it with some dainty figured chiffon. The result was that of an enameled ornament. She then used some long yellow and black beads which she had on hand and arranged them around the button as you see in a wheel, backing each whole thing with a plume of the folded chiffon.

This same girl did wonders to a plain tie which she designed to be worn with a dark blue suit, but not quite dressy enough as it stood when bought.

STRETCHING exercises taken daily for a year are said to increase one's height. Rise on toes and stretch the tips of fingers upward as far as they will go, then sweep the hands in front and touch the tips of the fingers or palms of the hands to the floor, keeping the knees straight.

WITH a gripe and feverish colds, cooling drinks are in demand. Chilled fruit juices are always acceptable, whether it is the juice of raw fruits, such as lemons, limes, oranges or grape fruit, or the cooled liquids around cooked dried fruit or preserves. Mix with water, sweeten slightly and put in a teaspoonful of shaved ice. Tart jellies make a refreshing drink, especially currant jelly. A nourishing drink is made by mixing the water of boiled rice with orange juice or currant jelly and water. Lemonade is made tasty with a dash of nutmeg.

SOILED woodwork around door-knobs can easily be cleaned by a cloth dampened with turpentine. Rub it gently until the dirt disappears, then use moderately warm water in which a small portion of borax has been dissolved. Have ready a dish of finely ground whiting and, after dampening the cloth in the borax, dip well into the dry whiting and go over the soiled places carefully. Allow the whiting to dry and then rinse it off with clear water and a clean cloth.

MANY women seem to find it difficult to make both tucked sides of their skirts quite alike, a fatal mistake, and one that can be remedied by very careful gauging of the pattern. No matter how fine the material is, or how dainty the tucking, if the tucks are uneven the entire effect of the blouse is lost under the opprobrious term "home-made." Either the tucks are not evenly spaced or, in the case of graduated ones, the two lengths of either side do not correspond. Rather wide tuckings are very nice to give the desired broad-shouldered effect, and a correct line in putting in the sleeve is one of the essentials of a tailored skirt.

PRETTY lamp shades can be made with wire net interlaced with gold cord and beads. It is necessary to cut the net in circular shape, making an opening to go over the lamp chimney. The disk must be cut so as to form a funnel shape when fastened together. With gold thread run the threaded needle through the net meshes, placing a bead on each stitch, and form a short fringe of small beads in bright colors around the bottom of the shade. When completed, finish the top with a row of big round beads. It will be necessary to run heavy wires across the top to prevent the shade from touching the chimney.

ONE of the nicest ways of keeping dresses, especially evening ones, fresh is to sew throughout the lining tiny perfumed silk sachets. Any odd bit of silk does for this purpose. Make the sachet about one inch square. Put in a layer of soft white wadding, into which has been sprinkled some sachet powder. Sew up and tack firmly to various places in skirt and bodice. This gives the delicate elusive fragrance to your frock which is rather hard to attain when liquid perfume is used. It also has the additional benefit of keeping away de-

She took some bright terra cotta ribbon and ran it under the chiffon from the shoulder seams almost to the waistline. Two pieces of it on each side of the front and two down the plain back. She caught this to the chiffon by heavy French knots on the right side. Then she embroidered little bead motifs in green and terra cotta colorings at the end of each of the veiled ribbons. Her blouse was an immense success and cost her very little in comparison to what a ready-made blouse like it would have cost.

One woman who for years has suffered from chronic headaches wards off the consequent wrinkles in the following way. The application is not to relieve the pain, but to prevent the skin from being strained and drawn, and with her it has succeeded admirably.

PRECAUTIONS taken with a new hot water bag and continued throughout its life will greatly prolong its days of usefulness. To begin with, buy the bag from a reliable dealer. Most bags are guaranteed, and new ones are refunded if there is any defect. These guarantees, of course, are not good if you get a new bag home, fill it with hot water, screw on the top and look it over carefully to see that there is no leak and no other visible imperfection. If there is none and if the bag is of good quality, it is your own fault if you can not tear up the guarantee as useless. Always fasten the stopper to the bag neatly with a piece of string, so that it can not get mislaid or lost. Hang the bag neck down. Never put really boiling water into a hot water bag. Fill the bag not more than two-thirds. Press out the steam before putting in the stopper. Have a flannel bag with which to cover the rubber bag when it is in use. This bag should be made of white cotton flannel or pink or blue, so that it can be easily washed.

KEEP COOL

WOMEN can serve their country best in the present national crisis by "keeping cool." So says a woman physician who gives her opinion on feminine needs and opportunities in the war situation. "In war time few women are privileged to nurse, to make equipment, to give service, things or money, but every woman in America can promote national preparedness and personal necessity by 'keeping cool,'" she says. "The old tradition that 'women must weep' is out of date. If war were declared, I know that our women would bravely restrain their tears, for they realize that sentimentalism and weeping make for delay, use up energy and the one wept over. The less delay and loss of energy the sooner the war will be over, and the fewer there will be to weep for. But there are worse things than weeping."

"Women bear the emotional brunt in war and time of stress. One of our clergymen said lately that if we make war we must 'do this horrible thing without joy and without hate.' Hate, we know, has vicious effects on the physical organism."

"Grief, worry, fear—these are harmful to women. It is demonstrated in the physical laboratory that such emotions visibly depress the human body. Correspondingly they confuse the mind. So, fearing, worrying, grieving, instead of helping the warrior, her country, herself, hamper woman's usefulness in time of war. They lessen her sustaining power to the man recovering from the shock of battle and the country struggling back to peace."

"The highest point of usefulness for woman now is cool-headedness, self-control. She is not to conceal her emotions, for concealed emotions also work evil. She is philosophically to prevent their arising. Thus she holds her body and mind in preparedness to fulfill her strenuous tasks of nurse, mother, sister, wife, and to meet the dependency that follows disaster."

"Woman is the equal of man in bearing her share of the nation's burdens, but she must be his superior in throwing off the burden of her own emotions. Tell the women of America to keep cool now!"

THE MODERN CROSS-STITCH Milady's Leisure Hours Can Be Filled In By Using This Useful Art.

OF course when one considers the amazingly handsome effects which can be produced with the most simple stitches, it is not surprising that needlework, or as this style of needle work is generally termed, fancy work, always has been and always will be, one of woman's favorite pastimes.

The tapestry and cross-stitch of old were chiefly employed to cover large surfaces. Centuries ago, the deft fingers of ladies of leisure wrought events of history on canvas with their needle regardless of time and labor. Worsted, and later on silks, were blended most artistically, in stitches so small that we, of the present day, who are not quite as industrious, marvel at the patience and skill of our ancestors.

But while few of us can devote so much time to this work, our hearts nevertheless long to possess something at least faintly resembling those works of art. Ingenious minds have contrived to adapt cross-stitch to almost every conceivable article. A touch of it here and there lends charm to the most simple things. For the trimming of children's garments, developed in cotton, silks or wool, nothing more suitable and serviceable could be found.

Many pretty designs may be obtained, which have been arranged especially for this purpose. Butterflies, baskets and wreaths can always be developed attractively as they permit the most dainty color schemes. Light blue, delicate pinks and greens, soft browns, all these may be employed. Four quaint little trees would be pretty arranged in a row to decorate a guest towel. The other designs make most desirable ornaments for pin cushions, napkins, handkerchiefs, in fact, would serve numerous purposes. For a charming little luncheon set, made of a size to fit the table of the little one who plays at keeping house, one of these cross-stitch designs may be used in each corner. For the napkins and napkin ring only, one motif each is used, while the oval mats are decorated with one motif placed at each end. To avoid spending too much time on scalloping, one may cut out, leaving one-quarter inch margin, back the material and finish the edge by making alternately 12 single crochet and one picot, taking stitches over the linen.

Another way of employing these designs is to fashion the bedspread, dress-scarf, curtains and pin cushions of jewel cloth, a material somewhat heavier than fancy scrim, but resembling the latter on account of the drawn-work which separates the squares. For this purpose one may either place a motif on each square or distribute the embroidery according to individual taste.

MILADY who contemplates making a cotton rug should save all the old dimity gowns which are usually relegated to the ragbag. Even the unworn portions of sheets which have fulfilled their destiny are useful for this purpose. When the cloth is finally torn in strips, sewed and wound in a firm ball, the next step is to start

A HEART TO HEART TALK TO SCHOOL GIRLS

BY EDNA EGAN.

GIRLS in high school or college face an individual problem which is very interesting. She has probably been told a great deal about "making the most of her opportunities" without ever having had that glittering generality made concrete for her.

One of the besetting sins of the average high school or college girl is a lack of concentration. Not concentration in the sense of application to one's task in the narrower sense, but concentration of one's time and faculties, so that the maximum efficiency is the result. To be really efficient, either in her scholastic work or in the more absorbing business of living, a girl must develop her body as well as her mind. And her social side as well, you suggest? But for the high school student there will be plenty of time later on for that. If her thoughts and time are healthily occupied with lessons and sports, her leisure will fill up with minor interests incident to her home life.

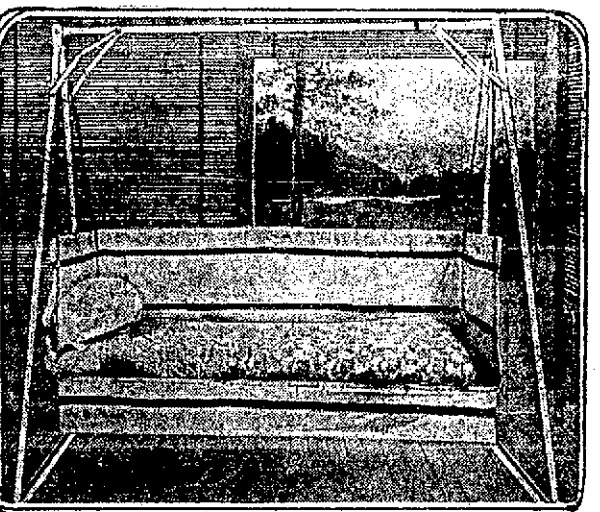

The sentimental "case," which is so prevalent, particularly among girls of the high school age, would be eliminated if a little common sense were brought to bear on the matter. Friendship is one of the most delightful and valuable experiences of the formative years, but the school girl "case" is a travesty of the name. Too often it precludes the formation of really true friendships, and in this sense proves itself a criminal waste of time and energy.

Another stumbling block which should be guarded against is extravagance and unsuitability in dress. The stunner a girl is dressed the more attractive she is, if she could but be made to realize it. If one word could contain all that a girl's school dress should be, the single word "adequate" might be chosen.

The majority of girls who attend high school live at home. A great many of them are consumers. These last should bear in mind that their conduct in public is the mirror in which others see the reflection of their home and school training, and by making themselves conspicuous by loud talk and laughter they are leaving those of whom they think the most open to severe criticism.

The college girl is facing a rather different set of problems. For the first time, in many instances, she is away from the direct influence of home discipline. On entering college the first thing she is told is that she is no longer an irresponsible school girl, but a college woman. She enters a miniature social community enclosed within the boundaries of her college campus. She must make her own decisions and abide by the consequences. Suddenly thrust into conditions like these, college girls are often too prone to rush into things without due consideration. A girl should remember that there is only room in her life for a limited number of outside interests, so she should be very cautious in making their selection.

TEA DRINKING

DOCTORS of London say it is useless to tell a dyspeptic woman not to drink tea. The only thing to do is to give her some harmless stuff in a bottle to be taken every three hours, with strict instructions that she is not to have any tea for four hours before or four hours after each dose.

Dressed Sardines With Brown Sauce.
Drain and wipe 12 sardines, broil over clear fire for two minutes, place on platter and pour around this sauce: Heat one and one-half tablespoons of flour, one cup of stock or milk and water, juice of one-half lemon and a few drops of table sauce.

Tomato Bisque Soup.
One can of tomatoes, one onion cut fine. Bring onions and tomatoes to a boil slowly, then strain and add one-half teaspoon of soda, and then add one pint of milk. Be sure you add soda to the tomatoes before you put in the milk. Thicken with one tablespoon of flour. Stir until boiling; season to taste. It is delicious.

Cocoanut Squares.
Butter the inside of a saucepan, put in one-half cupful of milk, one cupful of shredded cocoanut and two cupfuls of sugar. Cook about five minutes or until the mixture forms a soft ball when tested in a little water, add vanilla flavor and stir briskly until creamy. Pour into a buttered pan and mark into squares while still warm.

Pickled Lamb's Tongues.
Wash well and trim neatly twelve lamb's tongues. Boil in salt and water until tender. Skin and pack in glass jars while tongues are hot. Put in a very few whole allspice and cloves, cover with hot vinegar and seal at once.

Creamed Potatoes.
Slice potatoes, add milk to almost cover potatoes, little butter, pepper and salt to taste. Let milk come to a boiling point. Care must be taken that milk does not burn.

Brown Sugar Fudge.
Two pounds light brown sugar, scant one-half cup sweet milk. Boil until it will thread, remove from stove and add a small piece of butter, a few the rug. There is everything in making a good beginning. To assure this the rows of strands to be braided are fastened to a board with gilt thumb tacks, which are easily removed afterward. The worker proceeds to braid the strands until each one hangs from the board like a school-girl's hair. When this is finished and the ends are fastened and sewed together, the strands are joined with the over-and-over stitch. Sometimes the braids run crosswise instead of lengthwise and sometimes a design is carried out in a star, cross or some floral pattern.

Add a little soda to the water in which you are going to wash greasy dishes. This helps to remove the grease and keeps the dishcloth in good condition. Scrubbing brushes should never be put away with their bristles upward, for thus the water would soak into the wooden part and the bristles would soon become loose.

Suet Pudding.
One cup of gulfana raisins, one-half cup finely chopped suet, one cup granulated sugar, two cups sweet milk, three and one-half cups flour, one teaspoon salt, three teaspoons baking powder. Steam three hours in covered 2-quart tin, and have cover on as to keep out water. Must boil all the while.

Sauce—One cup sugar, one pint boiling water, three tablespoons cornstarch. Dissolve starch in cold water, add a little butter and flavor to taste.

Cranberry Sauce.
Pick over one quart of berries and pour boiling water over them. Let stand two or three minutes, then pour off the water and add two cups boiling water, put on stove and cook 20 minutes. Add two cups of sugar and cook 10 minutes longer.

Meek Mince Pie.
No. 1—Four crackers (rolled fine), one cup sugar, one-half cup molasses, two-thirds cup water, one-half cup vinegar, one cup raisins (chopped or cut in two), two eggs, salt and pepper.

No. 2—Two cups of rhubarb (chopped fine), one cup raisins, one cup molasses, one cup sugar, one cup hot water, one cup rhubarb, two-thirds cup melted butter, one teaspoon cloves, one teaspoon cinnamon, 6 crackers, rolled and stirred in last. Both recipes are very nice.

Dried Apple Fruit Cake.
Soak three cups of dried apples over night in cold water enough to swell them chop in the morning and put them on the fire with three cups of molasses, simmer until soft; add a cup of seedless raisins and stew a few moments. When cold add three cups of flour, one cup of butter, three eggs and a teaspoon of soda. Bake in a steady oven. Spices may be added if desired. This will make two loaves.

Molasses Cake.
Take one cup sugar, one-third cup butter, one-half teaspoon salt. Cream as you would butter, then add one teaspoon cinnamon, one-half dozen, two tablespoons molasses. Beat well. Now add one cup cold coffee. If you have not a whole cup of coffee, fill it up with milk, two cups flour, two teaspoons cream of tartar, one teaspoon soda sifted in the flour. Have the spoons level full of cream of tartar and soda. If heating it will spill the cake. Beat well and last add one-half cup of currants or chopped raisins dredged with flour. Beat again and bake about half an hour. Hope this will help you. You can omit the raisins if you prefer.

For cold starch use about half the usual quantity of starch and add a tablespoonful of powdered borax. This differs without danger of the trans-sticking.

How Lydia Darrah, Wife of the School-Teacher, Saved the American Army

By GEORGENE FAULKNER

AFTER the battle of Germantown General Washington was encamped at White Marsh, winter was coming on, his troops were half clad and poorly fed, and every day the army was growing weaker and weaker, as many of the men were deserting.

Meanwhile General Howe was near at hand and had gone into winter quarters at Philadelphia. His troops were well fed and comfortably housed. He knew the pitiful condition of Washington's little army, and he planned to make a night march and surprise Washington and capture the entire army. He decided to call a council of his officers and in the utmost secrecy tell them of his plans.

General Howe's adjutant general was stationed at the home of William Darrah on South Second street. William Darrah was a Quaker schoolmaster who was a Whig and was most loyal to George Washington and the cause of the revolution, and although surrounded by friends who were Tories and obliged to give quarters to the enemy, he kept his own counsel. His wife Lydia was also a true patriot and was willing if need be to give up her life in the cause of freedom.

One day the British adjutant said to her: "Lydia, tonight I expect General Howe and some officers to pay me a friendly visit, and I desire your large upper back room placed in readiness and at our disposal, and I trust you will see to it that all of your family retire at an early hour."

"It shall be as thou dost desire," answered Lydia.

That evening General Howe and his officers came to the house. The family and servants were all in bed and Lydia admitted them.

"You can retire now, Lydia," said the officer, "and when my friends are ready to depart I will call you to let them out and close the house."

Lydia curtsied low and said again: "It shall be as thou dost desire." Then Lydia went to her own room, took off her shoes and laid down on the outside of the bed, without undressing, but she could not go to sleep. Why were those officers there? And what did it all mean, this secret meeting? Were they planning to capture Washington and his army?

At last she could stand it no longer, and, rising from bed, she crept down the long hall and, putting her ear to the keyhole, she listened to the men talking. Then she heard the gavel calling for quiet and the voice of the adjutant as he read the plan of General Howe: "Tomorrow night the army shall make a secret march from Philadelphia and surprise and capture the American army, and thus cause the end of the rebellion."

Lydia trembled all over as she heard these words, and then she listened as the men told how they would march and which roads they would take, and how they would completely surround the army of Washington in the night. After a while she listened back to her room and waited. She knew that they were still discussing their plans, but she had heard enough, and she laid awake and waited for the men to go.

By and by the adjutant general knocked at her door, but she breathed deeply as though she were in sound slumber and she did not answer him. Another louder rap, but still no answer. "She is sleeping very soundly," said the officer to himself, and he gave a very loud thump upon the door.

Finally she came out rubbing her eyes and yawning, and with her candle in her hand she lighted the way to the street door for General Howe and his officers. After her house was locked for the night she went back to bed, but she could not sleep. "Oh, God," she prayed, "show me the way to save George Washington and his poor, struggling soldiers from the enemy." All night long she was thinking and praying, and in the morning she seemed to know just what to do. She did not let her husband or her family know anything of her plans, but she said: "We need four today, so I will take a sack and ride over on horseback to the mill and get it."

"There must have a pass to ride out to Frankfort," said her husband. "I can go for thee tomorrow if thee wilt wait."

"Nay," said Lydia. "My errand must be done today and I shall enjoy the ride."

Lydia was seen in the saddle, and after obtaining her pass she rode past the pickets and went on her way to Frankfort, and while her grain was being ground she rode on toward White Marsh. She rode on until stopped by American sentinels.

Colonel Craig was in command of this group of pickets and she said to him: "I desire to speak with thee alone and apart from thy troops." Colonel Craig, seeing her serious face under her quaint Quaker bonnet, knew that her errand was important, and he called with her apart from the others. She then told him the plan of the enemy and he what he would do to surround Washington and the American army.

The errand accomplished Lydia rode back to Frankfort and took her flour.

She lighted the way to the street door for General Howe and his officers.

from the mill and returned to Philadelphia.

That evening the British troops marched silently out of the city toward White Marsh, but instead of surprising Washington they were the ones to be surprised, for every road was guarded, and the American army held all of the places of advantage and was ready to meet them.

The British maneuvered in the darkness, but could not find a point where they could attack Washington, and at last, after some skirmishing, they gave it up and marched back in chains to Philadelphia.

The adjutant general returned to his headquarters and questioned Lydia Darrah.

"Lydia," he said sternly, "I must speak with you alone on a matter of grave importance."

"Certainly," she answered calmly. "What wilt thou have of me?"

"Night before last, when my friends came to visit me, I requested that your family and servants should retire early. Were my orders carried out?"

"They were, sir," answered Lydia. "My family and servants all went to bed at 7 o'clock."

"It is strange, most strange. You were asleep, I know, Lydia, for I knocked three times at your door before I could awaken you. Yet it is certain that we were betrayed and our plans were made known to General Howe, for when we marched out by night to surprise him we found him ready and waiting for us. His troops were drawn up in battle line and he had the advantage over us, so that, like a pack of fools, we had to march home again."

Lydia held her head down demurely and smiled a little as she heard the angry officer stern out his story, but she kept her own secret.

And it was not until the war was ended

that her tale was told, and then the grateful people heard of this brave woman, who by her quick wit and prompt action had saved the American army.

60,000 Camels in British Army

FAR the most interesting and curious use of which an animal in war is subjected is the use of camels, chosen and trained because of their strange coloring and height.

Small groups of them have been stationed among clumps of acacia trees, with a spy mounted on a camel's neck. This is the safest place a person could be, for the camel or giraffe, standing with only his head above the trees, looks precisely like a bit of the foliage in the distance. In the last Afghan campaign the British lost over 60,000 camels and today, in Egypt, there are 60,000 in army service. They are especially used for transportation purposes.

How You Can Make Magic Boat

THE surface of all water is covered by a film of the water itself, which in its action is not unlike that of a thin sheet of India rubber. To comprehend this one must imagine the rubber to be so thin as to be transparent. The surface of the water itself is elastic and under tension, so that a needle, though heavier than the water, may be floated on the surface.

Several interesting experiments may be made with the elasticity of this film. One of the best is to place two slender splinters of wood side by side on the water. Now drop a little alcohol between the splinters. This alcohol will immediately break the surface film between the splinters, and the pulling force of the remaining film, since there is nothing between to hold them, will cause the splinters instantly to fly apart.

Another interesting experiment is to whittle a thin, slender splinter, pointed at one end somewhat like a boat. Place a tiny bit of gum camphor on the rear of this splinter and the gum will destroy the surface film so that there will be no pull in the rear. As there is a pull in the front not balanced by one in the rear, the tiny boat will run forward as rapidly as the camphor can dissolve the film in the rear.

Some interesting little "magic" tricks might be developed from these experiments which would amuse and instruct your friends.

Most Dangerous Trade Revived

IT IS not the trapeze performer, the tight-rope walker or the old-time sailor who faces the greatest peril in his work, but the ship's rigger, who combines all three of these callings. During the present war, with the reappearance of sailing vessels in our ports, the ancient profession of ship's rigger has been suddenly revived. The seaports have been secured to discover old riggers, for their service today is invaluable. The skill and daring of American ship's riggers was once as famous as that of the Yankee shippers, says Boys' Life.

When a sailing vessel comes into port in need of repairs the ship's rigger is the first man aloft. It may be impossible to tell if her rigging will support a man's weight. The ropes may be covered with ice. The rigger must judge the strength of the ropes with his eyes and risk his life upon them. A trapeze performer in the circus must trust his weight to ropes high in air, but he is sure that they are strong and will bear his weight. The ship's rigger must swing himself in quite as perilous positions and remain there for hours doing the hardest kind of work.

The sailing of the ship usually waits upon the repairs he makes, and the expense of maintaining the crew and delaying the ship makes it necessary for him to work with feverish haste day and night.

Races Tame Buffalo Against Horse

THE buffalo has always been rated as untamable, and many scientists have regarded him as one of the most stupid beasts that ever existed. It has remained for "Major" Bob Yokum of Pierre, S. D., after five years of effort, to accomplish the wonderful feat of training a pair of buffaloes to trot to wagon, and also to do many other remarkable stunts," writes Robert H. Moulton in St. Nicholas.

"Major Yokum is a former United States marshal and is known in the old ranching and cowboy life of the American West, from Texas to Oregon. Some years ago he conceived the whim of experimenting to determine what a buffalo really did know. His troubles and trials with the unwieldy beasts were innumerable, but he finally succeeded in breaking them to harness and driving them.

"One of their accomplishments is to race against horses, and it is amazing to see them distance their speedy competitors. They loathe the saddling process, and when the rider mounts them will 'buck' in a way to shame a veteran broncho."

The Coming of Spring

A quaint idea of the artist, this picture of the "Coming of Spring." There's nothing like it in any of the art galleries, but all of us who are waiting for spring, father watching the coal pile, mother darning winter stockings and Tommy longing for a game of marbles, know that spring is slow as a tortoise. So the artist's idea is really sensible.

RAISIN MEN TOIL HEROICALLY TO SAVE FRUIT FROM MILDEW

Towns Close Stores to Help; All Driers to Be Used;

Sulphur Is New Hope

The critical situation in which the raisin industry has found itself as the result of the rains of the past few days, has resulted in an unusual demand for labor to help the raisin grower save as much as possible of the fruit.

For this emergency, labor clearing houses have been established at the office of the Valley Fruit Growers' Association, 1835 Kern street. All who can help in his crisis are urged to make this fact known to the association and raisin growers in need of help are urged to get in touch with the association.

Where transportation is difficult, arrangements can be made to send workers into the vineyards promptly, by telephoning the secretary of the Merchants' Association of Fresno.

C. T. Corley, president of the Merchants' Association, said last night the merchants would willingly co-operate in the vineyardists.

A suggestion by W. O. Miles, chairman of the Liberty Loan committee, led quickly to the making of these arrangements.

The humidity in the air yesterday prevented rapid drying of the raisins, and the mould and mildew were scarcely checked by the sun in many cases. No one would estimate the percentage of damage, as conditions varied so widely that it was impossible to generalize. Some of the paper trays stuck had become almost completely rotted. Even stock on wooden trays and in stacks was badly damaged in some cases where it had not been turned to prevent sticking. Stem rot attacked much of the fruit.

Thousands of men toiled in the fields turning the fruit. Where wooden trays were used, it was found the warm sun dried them to a certain extent.

Stores closed in Selma, Kingsburg and other raisin centers, and the clerks, merchants and their families went to the vineyards. Mass meetings were called to arrange for systematic work today.

Word was received that the U. S. army might send several thousand soldiers here to turn the trays, if the need became urgent. The troops were used to advantage in the Santa Clara valley grape crop. The government has large orders for raisins for the army.

The California Associated Raisin Company had already telegraphed to Food Administrator Merritt to ask Washington to open the wineries to receive thousands of tons of damaged fruit, and to turn the fermenting sugar into alcohol. No reply had been received last night.

The Raisin Association yesterday advised the growers where possible to utilize every available drier.

At Clovis, J. G. Ferguson of the lumber company threw open the immense lumber kilns, and several thousand tons of raisins will be saved there. Brick kilns and other structures, dried raisins were being used to show the brick kilns could be used successfully, or that home made driers could always be depended upon.

The moulds are working very fast due to the heat and humidity, and most of the worst damaged fruit will likely be rotten before the necessary pipes and fans could be secured.

Independent raisin packers are taking quantities of raisins which must be dried immediately, or lost. The companies are taking them on drying contracts or renting their plants. While the fruit which has been damaged cannot be sold for prices equal to the first class, it is sold for hundreds of dollars in this way. As association officials said, yesterday the emergency is too great to permit of hesitation, and that no man should let his crop go to waste if he could help it.

Whole crops of fine fruit have already been lost beyond hope of saving for human food. The growers suffering such losses are advised to salvage what they can for hog feed or other purposes, as a considerable portion will be valuable for more than fertilizer.

Raisins that have been carefully stacked and unstaked, and prevented from mildewing, and still show a good color are worth fighting for. And the Association will do its utmost to aid the grower in saving them.

The greatest hopes are now planned to sulphuring, and checking the growth of mildew and moulds. Where the fungus has not progressed so far

Selma to Close Stores

SELMA, Oct. 2.—In order to assist in saving the raisin crops of this section Selma merchants this afternoon voted to close their stores tomorrow morning if the day dawned clear and weather predictions cause the farmers to need an unusual amount of help for the day. The high school and grammar schools will also release boys for work in the vineyards. This afternoon the Associated Raisin Company is telephoning to all growers, and tabulating their needs for help, so that workers may be sent out without confusion if called for tomorrow. The merchants will meet at 7 o'clock Thursday morning to receive the call for workers, and will close if the men in the stores are needed. All growers who are in need of help are urged to telephone the Associated Raisin Company at phone No. 4 and register their need. The local peach and raisin packing houses shut down all of their men out into the fields. A price of 50 cents per hour has been fixed as the compensation for this work.

Cloudy Weather Today, Possible Showers, Forecast

The weather report promises not greatly changed conditions for today, in that it will be still unsettled and more or less cloudy, sultry and warm without much wind movement. There is also possibility of further showers. Since Tuesday evening there was no considerable change in the arrangement of barometric pressure over western states and the weather is unsettled throughout the state and threatening in the northern portion. In account of the remarkably uniform distribution of pressure the indications for the future are indefinite and uncertain. Excessive rainfall has occurred in the mountains during the last day or two and streams all have risen in the proportion of a moderate mid-winter freshet. At 7 a. m. Wednesday the gauge at Piedra registered 11.5 feet representing a discharge of about 12,400 second-feet, as compared with a few hundred at the low stage before the rains. The Merced and San Joaquin also have risen decidedly.

GOVERNMENT TAKES ENTIRE PRUNE CROP

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—Practically the entire crop of California prunes of all sizes from 30 to 50, choice grades, will be taken for army, navy and marine corps use. It was announced today by H.
